Police Fight Anti-Viet Demonstrators

'U.S. Murderers' Shouted As Humphrey Visits Paris

PARIS (AP) — Fighting broke out between police and anti-Vietnam demonstrators today as U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey went from talks with President Charles de Gaulle to the Arch of Triumph to lay a wreath on the tomb of France's unknown soldier.

A crowd massed around the arch when Humphrey arrived from Elysee Palace and sent up shouts of "U.S. murderers" and "Peace in Vietnam." Some displayed placards with the same slogans.

Strong police reinforcements moved in and fighting broke out, but there appeared to be no serious injuries. Police hustled the demonstrators, including a number of students, into several police buses and took them away.

The fighting occurred where the Avenue Des Champs Elysee joins the Place de l'Etoile, a huge traffic circle. The broad traffic circle separated the Champs Elysee from the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, where Humphrey laid a wreath.

Humphrey came from West Berlin, where noisy young demonstrators threw flour, a firecracker and beer glasses and waved a North Vietnamese flag outside two receptions Thursday night for the vice president. He was not hit and appeared unruffled.

As Humphrey arrived at Orly Airport today, about 200 demonstrators set up shouts for "peace in Vietnam" as they stood on the roof the airport administration building several hundred yards from the honor salon where Humphrey stepped from his plane.

Some of the demonstrators hurled eggs at a car full of newsmen but missed. One of the cars in Humphrey's motorcade was splattered with white paint as it drove into the city.

Humphrey paused briefly at his hotel on the Place de La Concorde, then drove four blocks to the Elysee Palace for the meeting and luncheon with De Gaulle.

The French Communist party newspaper, Humanite, published a detailed program showing where Humphrey would be all day and urged followers to show him that "French public opinion condemns American aggression in Vietnam." It called him "the traveling salesman of American aggression."

Although the French government position on the Vietnamese war is not far from the Communist stand, French officials assured newsmen they were doing everything possible to make Humphrey welcome in Paris. Working with American security officials, they arranged careful protection measures.

But French sources said they could see little prospect of any new development or initiatives resulting from the vice president's talks with President Charles de Gaulle and other French officials.

"We both already know each other's positions very well on the main subjects," said one source, referring particularly to De Gaulle's opposition to the American presence in Vietnam.

Other likely subjects for discussion were East-West relations, the proposed treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons, British entry into the Common Market, the Kennedy round of tariff negotiations, and the poor relations between France and the United States.

Winding up his two-week fence-mending tour of Europe as a substitute for President Johnson, the vice president goes Saturday to Brussels. An aide said he would spend an extra day there, flying to Washington Monday, but did not explain why.

In West Berlin Thursday, Humphrey drew the biggest crowds of his European trip and one of his biggest antiwar demonstrations by a jeering crowd that chanted "Ho—Ho—Ho Chi Minh!"

A few hours after Humphrey reaffirmed the U.S. pledge to defend West Berlin and compared the U.S. stand in the divided city to its role in Vietnam, he was greeted by a crowd estimated at 600 to 1,000 outside the gates of the Charlottenburg Castle, where he was guest of honor at a reception.

A firecracker and bags of flour were thrown as Humphrey's limousine swept through the gates, past the rival banners of anti-American and pro-American demonstrators who scuffled with each other in a cold rain.

Tri-State Lanes Burns

Five Departments Fight Blaze At Bowling Alley

Flames Rip Interior Of Area Lanes

BULLETIN
Laverne Seckman, chief of the Calcutta fire department, reported that the blaze which swept the interior of the Tri-State Lanes was brought under control about noon.

Several dozen volunteers from five area fire departments continued to battle a stubborn blaze shortly before noon at the Tri-State Lanes, a bowling alley on Route 170 about midway between Calcutta and Route 30.

Heavy smoke poured from every door and window of the 16-lane bowling center, a one-story structure valued unofficially at $200,000 to $250,000. The fire was confined primarily to the interior of the structure, near the rear, but the entire building was filled with dense smoke that forced the firemen to don breathing aids before going inside.

Lawrence Black of Glenmoor, owner of the building, was taken ill at the scene. Witnesses said he attempted to enter the structure through the front door and was blown backward abruptly, apparently by a rush of smoke and super-heated air. He was taken to a nearby physician's office for treatment of shock and later was treated and released at City Hospital.

Thirteen pieces of firefighting equipment were on the scene from Calcutta, Glenmoor, Chester and Liverpool Township East and West, along with Civil Defense equipment and an ambulance.

Firemen said the flames apparently originated in the pin deck at the rear of the structure, part of the automatic pin-setting equipment.

Black said he applied some lacquer last night, near the rear of the structure. Some witnesses theorized the flames may have broken out from an accumulation of fumes from the volatile substance.

Black said he was at the structure earlier this morning and nothing was amiss.

A passerby later discovered the smoke boiling out of the structure and notified Calcutta firemen shortly before 10 a.m.

When firemen first arrived, many ventured onto the roof of the structure to attempt to find the center of the fire. Others were in the interior, where flames were visible through the dense smoke.

SEEKING SOURCE OF SMOKE that poured out of the Tri-State Lanes near Calcutta, volunteer firemen climbed onto the roof on the one-story structure this morning as they battled a stubborn blaze. The fire apparently originated in the rear of the big building near the automatic pin-setting equipment. Dozens of volunteers from five area departments battled the flames, which were discovered about 10 a. m.

Jurors Present 23 'True Bills'

LISBON — Three armed robbery indictments head the list of 23 true bills returned Thursday by the Columbiana County Grand Jury.

Four of the indictments are secret and defendants cannot be named until they are in custody or have made bond.

The 20 defendants will be arraigned April 17 in Common Pleas Court before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will preside for criminal trials beginning May 1.

IN SESSION three days, the jury of 10 women and five men examined 59 witnesses in the investigation of 30 matters. The panel dismissed four cases after study and continued three cases. Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis and Assistant James D. Primm Jr. presented the cases.

Two of the armed robbery defendants are already in confinement. They are Donald G. Manis, 24, of 395 W. Pershing St., Salem, and Vernon Ralph Etters Jr., 22, Lisbon R.D. 5.

Manis and Kit Glass, 26, Salem R.D. 5, were indicted jointly on a charge of robbing Clarence Dickey of $642 Feb. 2 at Dickey's Ideal Dairy, 981 N. Ellsworth Ave.

Manis is in the Stark County Jail at Canton charged with first-degree murder in the pistol slaying of Theodore Ussery, 30, of Alliance early Saturday at the Elms Inn near Maximo. Manis was free under $2,000 bond from Columbiana County on the armed robbery charge. A pistol was used to threaten Dickey.

Etters is charged with three counts — armed robbery, burglary and auto theft, all occurring Jan. 17 at the home of Maurice Young on the Lisbon-Salem Rd.

The defendant was sentenced Jan. 23 in Common Pleas Court to 1 to 15 years in Ohio Penitentiary for a burglary Dec. 15 at Ferrier's News Agency, 474 E. State St., Salem. He pleaded guilty.

Viet General Threatens To Bomb Hanoi

Thieu Warns North Of Attacks Against Lower Buffer Zone

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's chief of state threatened today to bomb Hanoi or invade North Vietnam if the North Vietnamese don't stop attacking the South Vietnamese half of the demilitarized zone.

The threat by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu came in the wake of a Communist attack on a South Vietnamese border post as well as the raid Thursday by perhaps 2,000 North Vietnamese troops on the provincial capital of Quang Tri.

In the air war against North Vietnam, U.S. planes attacked Communist missile sites Thursday within the defense ring surrounding Hanoi and Haiphong, North Vietnam's major port. Two of the sites attacked were only five and seven miles from Haiphong.

Just south of Haiphong, two U.S. destroyers, the Waddell and the Duncan, were hit by Red shore batteries Thursday. But the Navy said there were no casualties and damage to the ships was light.

Thieu said Communist attacks in the South Vietnamese half of the six-mile-wide demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam are a deliberate violation of the 1954 Geneva agreement, and South Vietnam "reserves the right to retaliate in any form to protect itself."

Asked what form the retaliation might take, Thieu said Hanoi might be bombed or South Vietnamese troops could be sent into the North.

"And these actions must be considered as self-defense," he added.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky flew to Quang Tri today to survey the damage from the latest Red attacks south of the Ben Hai bridge, which marks the border between North and South Vietnam and is the dividing point between the northern and southern halves of the demilitarized zone.

Ky's government filed a protest with the International Control Commission charging that North Vietnamese soldiers moved across the bridge Wednesday, forcing South Vietnamese civilian police to abandon their post at the southern end of the bridge.

The government said South Vietnamese artillery opened up on the Communist force and the steel girder bridge. It said eight rounds hit the bridge, but it remained passable to traffic.

Baker Draws Sentence Of 1 To 3 Years

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Bobby Baker, onetime Senate aide, was sentenced today to not less than one year and not more than three years in prison.

Baker stood quietly in the courtroom as Judge Oliver Gasch pronounced the sentence.

Baker was convicted of seven counts on charges of income tax evasion, theft and conspiracy. The judge sentenced him to one to three years on each count, with the sentences to run concurrently.

His attorneys said the conviction will be appealed.

Before pronouncing sentence, Gasch said: "Mr. Baker you may speak."

"I have nothing, your honor," Baker said.

Baker told a reporter who called his home here Thursday that he was "fine." Since his trial, he said, he had been "looking after quite a few enterprises."

Powell's Suit For His Seat Is Dismissed

Judge Says Court Has No Power Over What House Does

WASHINGTON, (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart Jr. dismissed Adam Clayton Powell's suit for his seat in Congress today, holding that the court has no jurisdiction over what the House does about its membership. An immediate appeal was planned.

To order seating of the Negro Democrat from Harlem, the judge said, would be "to crash through the political thicket into political quicksand."

Hart also denied Powell's application for a three-judge court to hear the constitutional challenge of the resolution that excluded him.

The judge said the federal court does not have jurisdiction in the case.

Herbert Reid, one of Powell's attorneys, said that the issue will be taken as quickly as possible to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Reid said he would file the appeal probably some time today.

"The doctrine of separation of powers, which developed over a period of two millennia, is firmly embedded in the warp and woof of our Constitution," Hart said in his decision.

Hart said for the court to decide the case and grant what Powell had asked "would constitute a clear violation of the doctrine of separation of powers."

On that basis he accepted the core of the House defense against the action by the New York Negro Democrat.

The House excluded Powell on grounds he misused Education and Labor Committee funds, defied New York State courts in a defamation suit and was contumacious toward House committees that investigated him. He contends the House wrongfully established qualifications not required by the Constitution.

Powell asked Hart to set up a three-judge panel to hear a constitutional challenge to the resolution that excluded him.

Old Age Aid Boost July 1 Seen Fading

'Sept. 1 Good Date To Think About,' One Source Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances are fading fast that an increase in Social Security benefits will be in effect by July 1, the date suggested by President Johnson.

"Sept. 1 is a good date to think about," said one source deeply involved in the legislative handling of the bill.

Congress is considered certain eventually to pass some legislation aligning payments more closely with today's cost of living. But benefit increases probably will not be initially as generous as the 20 per cent average increase Johnson proposed, nor will the payroll tax increase be as steep as such a boost would require.

House Republicans are backing a limited increase now with provision for further rises later. Some key Democrats have expressed concern with the added tax burden on payrolls that the Johnson proposals involve.

The measure has been held back by a number of handicaps, including its own complexity.

It is really a half-dozen bills in one, dealing also with administrative adjustments of the medicare program, limits on federally assisted state health care undertakings, a pilot dental program for children and aids for the training of social workers.

The bill has run into a jammed schedule of the House Ways and Means Committee, which has been in almost daily session for two months.

The Social Security bill also is to some extent entangled with the proposal for an income tax surcharge, now also a candidate for delay or even possibly withdrawal.

The administration is concerned that the timing of the two measures — one taking money out of the private sector of the economy, the other pumping it in — avoid any violent disruptions.

'Master Plan' On Schools Outlined At Meeting Here

The proposed master plan for the redistricting of school districts in Ohio was outlined during a public information forum Thursday night at Westgate Junior High School. More than 200 educators, Board of Education members and other interested persons attended.

The forum was sponsored by the Ohio School Board Association and the Ohio Department of Education.

Dr. William I. Painter, a research associate of Ralph D. Purdy, director of the master plan project staff, was the principal speaker for the first phase of the discussion.

He pointed out the changes in the state's growth and how the educational demands must be changed accordingly. The master plan calls for the consolidation of districts to meet a minimum pupil enrollment of 3,500 for each district.

The larger districts would provide better services to the pupils and better economic pictures, he said. The consolidations also would help meet the increased attention needed for individual differences of pupils, better guidance counseling, better utilization of teacher time, more special classes for mentally and physically handicapped students and an expanded vocational program.

The larger districts also would provide for better use of the tax dollar, Painter said, pointing out that districts with

Israeli And Syrians Fight Tank-Guns Duel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli and Syrian forces fought a duel of tanks and guns today. While in the air Israel's Mirage fighters shot down two swift MIG21s of Syria, an army spokesman reported.

The Israeli planes took to the air after four hours of fighting aground between the two forces across the desert frontier south of the Sea of Galilee. The Syrian MIGs are Soviet-built supersonic planes.

The Israeli army said the fighting opened when Syrian guns fired on Israeli armored tractors working on the southeast shore of the sea.

Old Age Aid Boost July 1 Seen Fading

'Sept. 1 Good Date To Think About,' One Source Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances are fading fast that an increase in Social Security benefits will be in effect by July 1, the date suggested by President Johnson.

"Sept. 1 is a good date to think about," said one source deeply involved in the legislative handling of the bill.

Congress is considered certain eventually to pass some legislation aligning payments more closely with today's cost of living. But benefit increases probably will not be initially as generous as the 20 per cent average increase Johnson proposed, nor will the payroll tax increase be as steep as such a boost would require.

House Republicans are backing a limited increase now with provision for further rises later. Some key Democrats have expressed concern with the added tax burden on payrolls that the Johnson proposals involve.

The measure has been held back by a number of handicaps, including its own complexity.

It is really a half-dozen bills in one, dealing also with administrative adjustments of the medicare program, limits on federally assisted state health care undertakings, a pilot dental program for children and aids for the training of social workers.

The bill has run into a jammed schedule of the House Ways and Means Committee, which has been in almost daily session for two months.

The Social Security bill also is to some extent entangled with the proposal for an income tax surcharge, now also a candidate for delay or even possibly withdrawal.

The administration is concerned that the timing of the two measures — one taking money out of the private sector of the economy, the other pumping it in — avoid any violent disruptions.

'Master Plan' On Schools Outlined At Meeting Here

The proposed master plan for the redistricting of school districts in Ohio was outlined during a public information forum Thursday night at Westgate Junior High School. More than 200 educators, Board of Education members and other interested persons attended.

The forum was sponsored by the Ohio School Board Association and the Ohio Department of Education.

Dr. William I. Painter, a research associate of Ralph D. Purdy, director of the master plan project staff, was the principal speaker for the first phase of the discussion.

He pointed out the changes in the state's growth and how the educational demands must be changed accordingly. The master plan calls for the consolidation of districts to meet a minimum pupil enrollment of 3,500 for each district.

The larger districts would provide better services to the pupils and better economic pictures, he said. The consolidations also would help meet the increased attention needed for individual differences of pupils, better guidance counseling, better utilization of teacher time, more special classes for mentally and physically handicapped students and an expanded vocational program.

The larger districts also would provide for better use of the tax dollar, Painter said, pointing out that districts with

Israeli And Syrians Fight Tank-Guns Duel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli and Syrian forces fought a duel of tanks and guns today. While in the air Israel's Mirage fighters shot down two swift MIG21s of Syria, an army spokesman reported.

The Israeli planes took to the air after four hours of fighting aground between the two forces across the desert frontier south of the Sea of Galilee. The Syrian MIGs are Soviet-built supersonic planes.

The Israeli army said the fighting opened when Syrian guns fired on Israeli armored tractors working on the southeast shore of the sea.

Baker Draws Sentence Of 1 To 3 Years

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Bobby Baker, onetime Senate aide, was sentenced today to not less than one year and not more than three years in prison.

Baker stood quietly in the courtroom as Judge Oliver Gasch pronounced the sentence.

Baker was convicted of seven counts on charges of income tax evasion, theft and conspiracy. The judge sentenced him to one to three years on each count, with the sentences to run concurrently.

His attorneys said the conviction will be appealed.

Before pronouncing sentence, Gasch said: "Mr. Baker you may speak."

"I have nothing, your honor," Baker said.

Baker told a reporter who called his home here Thursday that he was "fine." Since his trial, he said, he had been "looking after quite a few enterprises."

368 In Hancock Expected To Join Food Stamp Plan

Some 368 persons in Hancock County are expected to begin receiving food stamp coupons beginning May 1, according to estimates of the West Virginia Department of Welfare.

They will be among a total of some 7,400 in eight northern West Virginia counties who will be using the stamps, according to the report.

Applications now are being accepted at two locations in Hancock County for participation in the program, described by Welfare Commissioner L. L. Vincent "as one of the best."

Persons on public assistance rolls will be certified for eligibility to purchase food stamps on the first issuance days in May by social workers at the Department of Welfare Office, 803 Chestnut St., New Cumberland. Other low-income families are asked to go to the food stamp office at 900 Ridge Ave., New Cumberland.

Any family interested in participating in the food stamp pro-

Charges Filed Against 8

Pittsburgh Police Scandal Centers On Rackets Graft

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Six Pittsburgh police officials a former assistant superintendent of police and an ex-patrolman have been charged with accepting racket payoffs to protect numbers operations.

The charges were filed Thursday by Dist. Atty. Robert W. Duggan of Allegheny County. He did not say how much money was involved.

Duggan said those arrested were former assistant police superintendent Lawrence J. Maloney; Inspectors William J. Walsh, Vincent W. Dixon and Ignatius Borkowski; Lts. Thoma P. Flavin, James V. McTague and William J. Jordan; and former patrolman Melvin R. MacDonald.

Maloney, head of a racket-busting squad known as "Maloney's Mauruders" some 20 years ago, also was charged with bribery and extortion. He was fired from the force shortly after his 1965 acquittal on income tax evasion charges for admitted legal gambling.

"I can't say 'Keep the faith' anymore," the chipper Maloney said following his arraignment before Justice of the Peace William J. Ivill of suburban Dormont where he was released on $5,000 bond. "Adam Clayton Powell stole my best line."

Maloney, now a restaurant operator, appeared relaxed and cracked jokes during the proceedings. After the reading of the information against him, Maloney said, "that's very interesting." He laughed briefly.

The others face a hearing April 15 on charges of conspiracy to extort money.

"Maloney set it up and the others took part," said Duggan, in announcing the arrests at a news conference. Duggan hinted more arrests may follow. "If the investigations warrant it, other charges will be filed," he said.

Duggan also said his investigation showed "that other police officers of the city of Pittsburgh have been engaged in extortion and bribery with numbers operators" but said the statute of limitations bars any prosecution for offenses before 1948.

He said that information was in the hands of David W. Craig, Pittsburgh safety director, "for whatever administrative action he may choose to bring against any of these officers" who are still on the force.

Craig was out of town, but Mayor Joseph M. Barr said, "I don't want to make any statement until I have more information on the charges that have been made. I intend to meet with Director Craig to determine what action will be taken."

James W. Slusser, police superintendent, said any possible action against the inspectors and lieutenants involved will depend on the outcome of a scheduled conference with Craig.

Duggan said one of the witnesses at the hearing for the men will be Clarence Cooper, one-time city patrolman now living in Florida. The charges described Cooper as being one of the officers who collected money from lottery operators.

In Junior Achievement Program

'Sells' Way To Columbus

Fifteen - year - old Marlayne Laneve, selected as East Liverpool's "Best Junior Achievement Salesman" for 1966-67, will represent the city in the Central Regional contest Saturday at Columbus.

She and Gerald Winstead, executive director of the program, are shown looking over one of the cookie sheets featured by the company to which she belonged.

To earn the title, Miss Laneve, a sophomore at East Liverpool High School and in her first year as a member of the Junior Achievement program, had to sell her company's product to a "typical customer" before a panel of judges from the Junior Achievement board of directors. Nineteen participated in the sales contest. Miss Laneve's group was counseled by the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

"Best J.A. Salesmen" from 40 cities will compete in the regional contest, with the winner advancing to the national event at New York City in May.

Schools

higher enrollments have lower administrative costs.

The small schools cannot offer what the large school can, he said. The master plan recommends that the administrative districts not be smaller than 3,500 pupils, but they can be much larger.

PAINTER SAID another part of the plan is the provision for area education districts, serving regional groups of local administrative districts with at least 35,000 pupils in first through 12th grades.

The area group would have its own board of education and would aid the administrative districts in various fields. It would serve as the center for purchasing, warehousing, transportation and other business administration. It also would cover the vocational field and occupational training as well as advanced programs for the accelerated students.

Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon, in discussing legislation, said the House has passed a bill to permit retired teachers to serve as substitutes for up to 100 days without infringing on their retirement pay. The maximum now is 59 days. Another bill permits school boards to buy or lease land to provide for parking areas for teachers and other personnel.

He said the Senate has adopted a bill establishing the Ohio Education Association as the bargaining agency for teachers in the state.

The second phase was a panel discussion. The panel included Painter, Wetzel, County Supt. Charles McBride and Dr. Roy Caughran, head of the Department of Elementary Education at Kent State University.

McBride pointed out the program would force the consolidation of all districts in Columbiana County except East Liverpool and Salem, which are large enough to meet the minimum standard. But, he pointed out, he favors larger districts, terming them advantageous.

McBride said the public will accept the program, but it will take time. The limit for consolidation, if the plan is adopted by the legislature, is 1970.

DISTRICTS ARE being urged now to begin working on a consolidation program. The Ohio Department of Education will have the final decision on what districts can merge. This is to prohibit financially wealthy districts from joining to "freeze out" a poorer district.

Although the districts will be reorganized, it does not mean the immediate consolidation of high schools, Painter said. The district may be formed and operate two, three, four or however many high schools are needed.

Painter said one of the goals is to provide for a more equitable distribution of taxable wealth. He said that with a larger area involved, the tax base would not have to be as high.

After 1970, the plan calls for mandatory consolidation, he said.

Dr. Caughran also favored the consolidation of districts, saying the increase in size would also provide a framework for long - range planning for what is needed in the entire district and allow districts to evaluate their programs and establish new goals.

"We have to make a move now before our problems overcome us," he said.

Dr. Wade Bacon of Lisbon served as moderator for the panel discussion. A question-and-answer period followed.

Tract Leased For Ohioville Play Project

Midland Enterprises, a development concern, turned over a deed for a play area in Meadowbrook Estates when Ohioville Council met Thursday night at the borough building.

The 250-by-350-foot tract is located along Fairlane Dr. and has been leased to the borough for $1 a year.

Council authorized Daniel C. Baker, borough engineer, to prepare cost estimates for bulldozing, grading and laying of drains. The work is to begin when weather permits.

Meadowbrook residents have volunteered services as equipment operators and laborers.

EARLIER in the Council meeting, a petition which had been signed by a large number of residents of the Meadowbrook area was presented by Frank Pucci, requesting a play area for children.

In a survey taken by residents, it was learned there are 162 youngsters along Fairlane Dr. from the water tower to Knollwood Dr.

F. Paul Dawson, Council president, emphasized that $3,000 was allocated in the 1967 budget for construction of playgrounds throughout the borough.

He said since the Meadowbrook tract already has been leased, work will proceed, but play areas will be planned for other parts of the borough.

He said the Ohio Township Water Authority plans to lease a 1.04-acre tract to the borough for a playground on Knollwood Dr. near the former pumphouse site.

Mayor Elmer Gifford was authorized to obtain prices on play equipment.

Mrs. Emily Carroll, borough secretary, was requested to send a letter to the Ohioville firemen congratulating them on acquiring property on the Smiths Ferry Rd. for a play and picnic area. Borough officials pledged help in purchasing equipment.

DALE WOLFE of Smiths Ferry was appointed road foreman, replacing Fred Wolfe who resigned in January because of conflicting work schedules with the Crucible Steel Co.

The road committee reported crews will begin grading roads in preparation for oil treatment when weather permits. The committee plans meetings to map out the work program for the summer.

Slag and oil bids were opened and referred to the engineer for tabulation and study for future awarding.

Mayor Gifford reported 23 complaints investigated by police during March, along with eight traffic and two dog violations. The Beaver County Humane Society reported nine dogs and five cats impounded from the Smiths Ferry area.

Bills totaling $1,567 were paid. The next meeting will be May 4.

3 Fined In Hearings On Various Charges

Three were fined a total of $106 and costs on various charges Wednesday by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

William S. Tanner, 49, of East Liverpool was fined $20 and costs for littering. He was arrested by Conservation Officer Earl Kirkland.

Fined $86 for driving an overweight truck was Walter G. Ramano, 26, of Bessemer, Pa.

Donald Notni, 27, of Weirton was fined $10 and costs for improper passing. Notni and the trucker were arrested by the West Virginia state police.

Former Ohio Official Gets Commerce Post

CINCINNATI (AP) —Thomas E. Ferguson, former assistant state treasurer of Ohio, is the new head of the Cincinnati field office of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Ferguson, of Columbus, was appointed Thursday to succeed the late Robert M. Luckey in charge of the office supervising department activities in southern Ohio, northern Kentucky and southeastern Indians.

Appropriations Ordinance Given Its Final Reading

Wellsville Council gave a third and final reading to the 1967 appropriations ordinance Thursday night.

The budget for this year totals $402,859, down considerably from the $423,207 1966 amount.

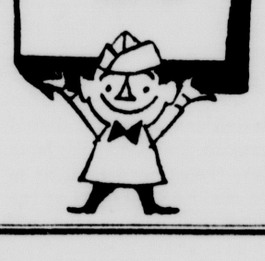

Mayor William Daugherty said today he will sign the document after he has gone over it with City Auditor Edgar Davidson. The mayor said he "sees no problems" with the budget.

3 Fined In Hearings On Various Charges

Three were fined a total of $106 and costs on various charges Wednesday by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

William S. Tanner, 49, of East Liverpool was fined $20 and costs for littering. He was arrested by Conservation Officer Earl Kirkland.

Fined $86 for driving an overweight truck was Walter G. Ramano, 26, of Bessemer, Pa.

Donald Notni, 27, of Weirton was fined $10 and costs for improper passing. Notni and the trucker were arrested by the West Virginia state police.

Former Ohio Official Gets Commerce Post

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thomas E. Ferguson, former assistant state treasurer of Ohio, is the new head of the Cincinnati field office of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Ferguson, of Columbus, was appointed Thursday to succeed the late Robert M. Luckey in charge of the office supervising department activities in southern Ohio, northern Kentucky and southeastern Indians.

Appropriations Ordinance Given Its Final Reading

Wellsville Council gave a third and final reading to the 1967 appropriations ordinance Thursday night.

The budget for this year totals $402,859, down considerably from the $423,207 1966 amount.

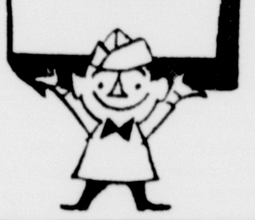

Mayor William Daugherty said today he will sign the document after he has gone over it with City Auditor Edgar Davidson. The mayor said he "sees no problems" with the budget.

Confidence In Ohio's Future

The Ohio Bond Commission issue being offered to voters in the May 2 primary is a businesslike proposition.

This is not an empty phrase.

Approval of the Ohio Bond Commission will put Ohio on the same kind of financial footing that makes it possible for U.S. business enterprise to grow and prosper.

Business makes jobs and staves off obsolescence by making necessary improvements in expectation of future growth, then paying for the improvements when growth materializes.

Business issues securities and borrows money to grow, because it does not dare wait until it has accumulated enough surpluses to underwrite the expansion it needs to keep abreast of the times.

This is the essence of the Ohio Bond Commission — to underwrite the state's expansion now and pay back the money out of tomorrow's expanded economy.

Certain members of the opposition have tried to turn it into a political issue.

They are afraid an Ohio Bond Commission, authorized to underwrite Ohio's growth without going through the tortuous bypaths of politics, would diminish their power.

There is no other reason for their opposition, unless they wanted to admit they are opposed to Ohio's growth. The commission could issue no bonds until two hurdles had been cleared.

The General Assembly would be required to show that sufficient revenue was in sight to pay for the servicing of the bonds.

The financial community would have to be satisfied that the bonds were sound investments.

These are elaborate safeguards.

It is strange indeed that Ohioans should have to be sold on the idea that their state's growth is a sound investment.

Ohio is a sound investment.

That's what Issue No. 1 on the May 2 ballot is all about — a showdown between Ohio voters who believe in their state and those who have no confidence in its future.

No Tricks, No Shenanigans

If all goes well in the slow-moving trial of the defendant in the Chicago nurse-murder horror of last July, the case finally will be wrapped up and filed away on the first anniversary of the incident.

It is useful now to review how the defendant was spotted. Corazon Amurao, the same young woman who now has pointed out Speck in the courtroom as the man who committed the atrocity last July, picked his picture out of a collection of "mug shots" last July.

Her identification then caused him to be arrested. It gave a medical intern the clue to the tattoos he had found on the arm of an unidentified man he was treating.

It led to Speck's indictment on eight different counts in the cold-blooded slaying of eight student nurses — a fate Miss Amurao escaped only because she hid under a bed after she had seen the murderer claim his first victims and realized that he was without compassion or decency.

The Speck trial has turned out to be a test of public composure and judicial decorum against odds as heavy as ever will be stacked against dispassionate and orderly courtroom procedure. Everything conceivable has been done to give the law's cherished "adversary" system a chance to prove that it can do what it is supposed to do.

And what is it supposed to do?

Live Comedy Making Comeback

The AFTRA strike is one of the most exciting things that has happened to television in a long time.

People who normally can take or leave news shows are glued to their sets each evening. They are passing up free cocktail parties, steak dinners and out-of-town business trips just to make sure they don't miss the shows.

All the enthusiasm is about the revival of live comedy shows — you know, news and weather reports.

For instance, there was one sub newsman who gave the appearance of chewing gum while on camera. Following protests, he explained that a filling had become dislodged during the newscast and not knowing what to do with it, he moved it from one side of his mouth to the other.

One novice weatherman blamed his forecast on "in the fifty-ones and fifty-twos" on the fact he was nervous because his socks were falling down.

Striving to give his show an air of nonchalance, another stand-in newsman carefully packed his pipe, clenched it in his teeth and started to light it. At this point, a slight miscalculation sent the pipe askew and showered tobacco over a wide area.

Shipping's Most Expensive Smashup

The Torrey Canyon disaster, already the most expensive in the history of shipping, threatens to become even more costly.

The 118,825-ton Liberian tanker cracked up on a reef off the western tip of England March 18. Salvage efforts failed, permitting tons of crude oil to blacken English beaches, kill marine life and destroy birdlife.

Finally on March 28, Britain began bombing the smashed hulk and its remaining cargo of oil.

Insurance underwriters were liable for a total of $16.5 million in loss of the gigantic tanker and its cargo.

Now Prime Minister Wilson has decided to sue Union Oil Co. of California, owners of the Torrey Canyon, for damages to Britain's shoreland.

The highly complicated legal questions and maneuvering are sure to reach unbelievable proportions before the case is resolved. The outcome is uncertain.

One aspect of the incident is certain; there will be an international agreement placing strict regulations on super tankers carrying potentially dangerous cargoes. It will include various safeguards and will specify safe routes for increasingly large tankers.

It will take time to formulate the agreement because of its international scope; but it is coming — unfortunately too late for many Britishers.

A Time For Moping

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

This is a peculiar time, a kind of moping along time as if Congress was waiting for something more tremendous to come along than it is facing this year.

This isn't because of any trouble with President Johnson. He hasn't been in any brawl with the men in the Capitol. Except for an occasional set-to with a few senators over Vietnam his relations with Congress have been good.

That kind of gulf was bridged — at least in a basic sense, since there is still picking and pecking on the subject — when Congress passed the Employment Act of 1946.

In that act Democrats and Republicans got together long enough to agree the government had a responsibility for the general welfare, the first time in history that had happened, which made it easier thereafter to put through social welfare programs.

WHAT SEEMS to be happening on the part of both Johnson and Congress is a feeling that the torrent of legislation in the welfare field that they turned out in 1964 should do for a while, at least until it is in full operation.

Perhaps that, along with the Vietnamese war which is dominant in the minds of both Johnson and Congress, explains the rather subdued nature of most of the programs Johnson asked for this year.

Only two of them really come under the traditional heading of social welfare: one calling for the biggest increase in Social Security benefits in 30 years and a proposal to spend $650 million for better health and educational opportunities for young Americans.

Some of Johnson's other proposals were controversial in their own right, and already he has given up on one while success on another looks dubious.

Labor didn't like his suggestion to eliminate the individual Departments of Labor and Commerce and merge their interests in a new department of economics. Johnson has backed off that one.

Many businessmen, and perhaps most people weren't happy over that part of his January State of the Union message asking Congress for a tax increase, effective July 1, through a 6 per cent surcharge on personal and corporate incomes.

Johnson's chances of getting it look dimmer now than in January, for since then the economy has quieted down.

SOME NEGRO leaders felt he was too skimpy on civil rights in his State of the Union message. He made up for that later with a special civil rights message asking for an eventual ban on discrimination in housing, safeguards against discrimination in jury selections and an equal employment opportunity commission.

Congress hasn't acted on that yet, but if the section on open housing ever reaches the House or Senate floor the most intense heat wave of the year should sweep over the Capitol.

Here are some of Johnson's other requests: A revision of the military draft, a massive effort to combat crime, legislation to reduce juvenile delinquency, an all-out assault on air pollution, approval of a treaty barring the use of outer space for anything but peceful purposes, another year of foreign aid, a 12-point program to protect the American consumer and an overhaul of the patent system.

Taken as a whole, this is not an inflammatory set of proposals.

'We Must All Pull Together!'

Danger On LBJ Trip Hinted

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — From my friend, Commander Alejandro Otero Campana, Chief of Intelligence of the central police of Montevideo — the Uruguayan capital to which President Johnson soon will fly — comes word of a Castro-Maoist network of terrorists trained in rifle marksmanship, grenade throwing and "urban guerrilla" warfare.

Victor Riesel

So skilled and ready for street action is this alliance of leftist Communist cells, says Senor Otero, that it has even mapped the city's sewer system so they can dart up suddenly inside the guards in all sections of the city.

President Johnson will be spending virtually all his time during the April 12 to 14 Latin summit conference at Punta del Este, a resort 65 miles east of Montevideo.

But the terrorists are fanatical and are determined to move against U.S. citizens, diplomats and property.

Commander Otero, in a long and detailed memorandum, tells me that the terrorists "mapped" the U.S. foreign service people as carefully as the sewer system and the infrastructure of the city.

"MATERIAL SEIZED," says the Intelligence chief, "revealed they had formed vigilante teams. Notes were found concerning the residences of U.S. diplomats, their cars, their estates, the number of floors in their homes, the 'modus vivendi' of their residents."

Senor Otero also reports that "on another level, there are names, addresses, and study material on labor unions" — their internal politics and personalities. Since the Castroites have infiltrated many of them the unions can be used as sabotage vehicles.

The intelligence chief also reported that the "pseudo revolutionaries . . . have been the authors of various crimes, all perpetrated in the name of their so-called revolution: armed robberies of banks, raiding thefts on two armories, dynamiting of U.S. companies, against the First National City Bank, Coca Cola, Moore - McCormack Steamship Line offices, a large department store called Mansanares Inc., against the publicity offices of the government of Brazil and an attack on the home of the commander of the First Military District."

A citizen reported that he had seen the stolen truck of a friend go hurtling down the street. The radio cars closed in. Suddenly the occupants began heaving homemade bombs — 11 of them. Finally the vehicle hit a tree. One of the truck's occupants, Carlos Alberto Flores Alvarez, was killed. The others disappeared — could have been into the sewers.

Commander Otero's squads searched the dead man's home. There they discovered substantive evidence, he reports, "of the existence of the terrorist organization in our country."

"WE FOUND A 'CLUB' which taught marksmanship, manufacture of bombs, judo and personal defense," writes the chief, "as well as evidence of the existence of a para-military structured organization. The dead man was a member of a tiny cell. The other three terrorists were jailed."

Other leads were followed. Commander Otero's men found a machine shop with entrances on two streets. There stolen vehicles were disguised. "So well-prepared were they for street action,' says Senor Otero, "they had even used parts, including the roofs and hoods of stolen vehicles, to build portable parapets for street battles with the police."

Then Commander Otero's Dept. of Intelligence and Liason began rounding up other cells. Some documents led them to a ranch on which members of the organization identified as "LosTupmaros" trained. One of Senor Otero's colleagues, Antonio Silveira Regalado, commander of the police radio patrol was shot down.

On the ranch and in Montevideo cells, asserts Senor Otero, "we found technical instruction on guerrilla warfare, urban guerrilla warfare, manuals on shooting, on weapons, on how to pick locks on military units — their personnel, armament, procedures and more important, lists of persons considered enemies of the 'revolution.'

THE CELLS, made up of five or six persons, are identified by a letter, and in that unit each pseudonym of each of its terrorists started with that letter. Cell C, for example, was made up of Claudia, Camella, and Carlos (the late Flores Alvarez).

As for control of the network, Commander Otero states that there are various factions — the Communist Party and "dissidents which have formed tiny groups . . . and we know that the recruits are told that they must seek contacts with guerrila forces in other countries." This would encourage the joint action of the so-called forces of national liberation.

"Our country is not accustomed to this kind of fight," says Senor Otero, "our people categorically reject these practices. . . The war for democracy will never be successful if we democrats do not help each other penetrate the veil of secrecy."

Senor Otero and his companions are to be saluted. The people of the U.S. — and the President — owe them much.

2-Cent Stamps?

Thoughts On Postal Service

The idea of establishing a government corporation to own and operate the postal service and its buildings has been suggested in one form or another several times before and ignored by Congress.

It may well be that Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's proposal that the government form such a corporation was merely a method of focusing attention on the formula of private ownership which requires that customers alone should pay the full cost of a service.

Members of the Senate and House, however, are not likely to permit any substantial increase in postal rates or give up their power of "patronage," which enables them to have a voice in selection of postmasters throughout the country, as well as considerable influence in the spending of federal funds for new postal buildings and other facilities.

From a political standpoint, more votes might be gotten by offering free mail service to the citizens of the United States than to keep on increasing their postal rates.

Many taxpayers do not feel that they are getting much out of the big "take" which the federal government subtracts from their pay checks as well as from businesses.

Unfortunately, the public knows little about the way the Post Office Department is managed. Some persons who have had experience at high levels inside the department say it is being inefficiently operated. The annual deficit has risen from around $363 million 12 years ago to $1.2 billions today.

Reasons for the "deficit" are not easy to analyze, because of the complicated system of bookkeeping used. For instance, a substantial part of the deficit is due to what is commonly called "junk mail" — letters not addressed to any individuals but to "occupants." Much of this "third-class" mail is sent out by businesses which find it a relatively inexpensive way to sell goods.

Publications get reduced rates in "second-class mail privileges." Since government funds are about to be spent to support educational television, it is being argued that the printed word can be considered "educational" along with the spoken word.

Differences of opinion prevail as to how mail delivery costs are figured. Certainly mail carriers are essential for handling "first-class" mail and they can deliver other kinds of mail, too, without much extra expense.

The argument for years has been over what are equitable "second-class" or "third-class" rates. A disinterested and impartial commission is needed to examine the economic facts and come up with some recommendations as to how the postal service could be operated at the lowest possible expense and with greater efficiency.

When such data have been obtained, it will be possible to see more clearly what rates should be charged for the various classes of mail.

Certainly if the White House is to be given power to appoint all members of the board of directors of a government-owned corporation to take charge of the mail service, the political influence will remain very much as it is today.

Although the rate-making power would to a certain extent be delegated by Congress, it would be impossible for any such corporation to function unless it had "guidelines" with which to appraise the difference between various kinds of mail, some of which definitely come within the concept of the "public interest."

So far as the administration is concerned, it could win either way.

If Congress sets up a government corporation, the administration will still control the whole operation from year to year.

If, on the other hand, Congress turns down the proposal, pressure to increase postal rates of all kinds will unquestionably be exerted upon Congress by the administration.

The American people, however, will wonder whether in these days of virtually unlimited spending for "public welfare," a system might be worked out so the American people would be able again to mail their letters with a two-cent stamp, as they used to in "the good old days."

Commander Otero, in a long and detailed memorandum, tells me that the terrorists "mapped" the U.S. foreign service people as carefully as the sewer system and the infrastructure of the city.

"MATERIAL SEIZED," says the Intelligence chief, "revealed they had formed vigilante teams. Notes were found concerning the residences of U.S. diplomats, their cars, their estates, the number of floors in their homes, the 'modus vivendi' of their residents."

Senor Otero also reports that "on another level, there are names, addresses, and study material on labor unions" — their internal politics and personalities. Since the Castroites have infiltrated many of them the unions can be used as sabotage vehicles.

The intelligence chief also reported that the "pseudo revolutionaries . . . have been the authors of various crimes, all perpetrated in the name of their so-called revolution: armed robberies of banks, raiding thefts on two armories, dynamiting of U.S. companies, against the First National City Bank, Coca Cola, Moore - McCormack Steamship Line offices, a large department store called Mansanares Inc., against the publicity offices of the government of Brazil and an attack on the home of the commander of the First Military District."

A citizen reported that he had seen the stolen truck of a friend go hurtling down the street. The radio cars closed in. Suddenly the occupants began heaving homemade bombs — 11 of them. Finally the vehicle hit a tree. One of the truck's occupants, Carlos Alberto Flores Alvarez, was killed. The others disappeared — could have been into the sewers.

Commander Otero's squads searched the dead man's home. There they discovered substantive evidence, he reports, "of the existence of the terrorist organization in our country."

"WE FOUND A 'CLUB' which taught marksmanship, manufacture of bombs, judo and personal defense," writes the chief, "as well as evidence of the existence of a para-military structured organization. The dead man was a member of a tiny cell. The other three terrorists were jailed."

Other leads were followed. Commander Otero's men found a machine shop with entrances on two streets. There stolen vehicles were disguised. "So well-prepared were they for street action,' says Senor Otero, "they had even used parts, including the roofs and hoods of stolen vehicles, to build portable parapets for street battles with the police."

Then Commander Otero's Dept. of Intelligence and Liason began rounding up other cells. Some documents led them to a ranch on which members of the organization identified as "LosTupmaros" trained. One of Senor Otero's colleagues, Antonio Silveira Regalado, commander of the police radio patrol was shot down.

On the ranch and in Montevideo cells, asserts Senor Otero, "we found technical instruction on guerrilla warfare, urban guerrilla warfare, manuals on shooting, on weapons, on how to pick locks on military units — their personnel, armament, procedures and more important, lists of persons considered enemies of the 'revolution.'

THE CELLS, made up of five or six persons, are identified by a letter, and in that unit each pseudonym of each of its terrorists started with that letter. Cell C, for example, was made up of Claudia, Camella, and Carlos (the late Flores Alvarez).

As for control of the network, Commander Otero states that there are various factions — the Communist Party and "dissidents which have formed tiny groups . . . and we know that the recruits are told that they must seek contacts with guerrila forces in other countries." This would encourage the joint action of the so-called forces of national liberation.

"Our country is not accustomed to this kind of fight," says Senor Otero, "our people categorically reject these practices. . . . The war for democracy will never be successful if we democrats do not help each other penetrate the veil of secrecy."

Senor Otero and his companions are to be saluted. The people of the U.S. — and the President — owe them much.

2-Cent Stamps?

By David Lawrence

Thoughts On Postal Service

The idea of establishing a government corporation to own and operate the postal service and its buildings has been suggested in one form or another several times before and ignored by Congress.

It may well be that Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's proposal that the government form such a corporation was merely a method of focusing attention on the formula of private ownership which requires that customers alone should pay the full cost of a service.

Members of the Senate and House, however, are not likely to permit any substantial increase in postal rates or give up their power of "patronage," which enables them to have a voice in selection of postmasters throughout the country, as well as considerable influence in the spending of federal funds for new postal buildings and other facilities.

From a political standpoint, more votes might be gotten by offering free mail service to the citizens of the United States than to keep on increasing their postal rates.

Many taxpayers do not feel that they are getting much out of the big "take" which the federal government subtracts from their pay checks as well as from businesses.

Unfortunately, the public knows little about the way the Post Office Department is managed. Some persons who have had experience at high levels inside the department say it is being inefficiently operated. The annual deficit has risen from around $363 million 12 years ago to $1.2 billions today.

Reasons for the "deficit" are not easy to analyze, because of the complicated system of bookkeeping used. For instance, a substantial part of the deficit is due to what is commonly called "junk mail" — letters not addressed to any individuals but to "occupants." Much of this "third-class" mail is sent out by businesses which find it a relatively inexpensive way to sell goods.

Publications get reduced rates in "second-class mail privileges." Since government funds are about to be spent to support educational television, it is being argued that the printed word can be considered "educational" along with the spoken word.

Differences of opinion prevail as to how mail delivery costs are figured. Certainly mail carriers are essential for handling "first-class" mail and they can deliver other kinds of mail, too, without much extra expense.

The argument for years has been over what are equitable "second-class" or "third-class" rates. A disinterested and impartial commission is needed to examine the economic facts and come up with some recommendations as to how the postal service could be operated at the lowest possible expense and with greater efficiency.

When such data have been obtained, it will be possible to see more clearly what rates should be charged for the various classes of mail.

Certainly if the White House is to be given power to appoint all members of the board of directors of a government-owned corporation to take charge of the mail service, the political influence will remain very much as it is today.

Although the rate-making power would to a certain extent be delegated by Congress, it would be impossible for any such corporation to function unless it had "guidelines" with which to appraise the difference between various kinds of mail, some of which definitely come within the concept of the "public interest."

So far as the administration is concerned, it could win either way.

If Congress sets up a government corporation, the administration will still control the whole operation from year to year.

If, on the other hand, Congress turns down the proposal, pressure to increase postal rates of all kinds will unquestionably be exerted upon Congress by the administration.

The American people, however, will wonder whether in these days of virtually unlimited spending for "public welfare," a system might be worked out so the American people would be able again to mail their letters with a two-cent stamp, as they used to in "the good old days."

Agreement Remains Unsigned

Action Remains Up In Air On Bargaining At Home

LISBON — An agreement to make the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, AFL-CIO, "the sole and exclusive bargaining agent for all eligible employes of the Columbiana County Home" went unsigned by the county commissioners Thursday at the Courthouse.

James W. Boyd of East Liverpool, commission president, and Charles J. Gause of Hanoverton R. D. 1, said they would not sign the agreement at this time.

THE PAPER was presented by Robert W. Lord of Evansville, Ind., IBOP international representative; C. Frank Dales of East Liverpool, sixth vice president of the IBOP, and Lester Null of East Liverpool, third vice president.

Lord and Dales met with the commissioners March 30 and said a majority of the home employes have signed cards asking the IBOP to represent them.

Lord said then, and again yesterday, he would not show the cards to the commissioners, but would show them to a disinterested official agreeable to the union and commissioners so he could check the cards against the union's claim of a majority.

Both Lord and Dales said they left the March 30 meeting with the impression the commissioners would act favorably on the agreement form if the card count yesterday showed a majority.

THE ENVELOPE of cards was displayed by Lord, but was not opened. Both sides agreed to have Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis or Probate Judge Louis Tobin make the count, but both were busy. John B. McDonald of East Liverpool, assistant prosecutor, was called, but by the time he was free it was apparent Boyd and Gause recalled the March 30 meeting differently than Lord and Dales.

Both commissioners said they told the visitors the county has asked for a civil service examination for County Home superintendent and they would not be in favor of signing an agreement before an appointment is made. They said they do not know how long that may be, since the exam date has not been set.

"You gentlemen led us to believe a week ago that if we could show proof of a majority you would consider giving us bargaining rights today," Dales said.

"The people elected us to do a task out there," Boyd said, "and I don't see where we have the authority to share the responsibility of managing the home with any organization." He said he is not opposed to the union.

LORD SAID the commissioners are in the position of the employer and the union seeks the right to represent the employes at the workers' request.

The home has approximately 45 eligible workers, Lord said, excluding the superintendent, matron and registered nurse.

"This is in your hands," Null said. "You will either have to say yes or no to signing it if we have the majority."

"Will you or won't you?" Null asked Boyd. "I won't," he answered.

The same question was put to Gause. He said he still feels the same about the question as he did March 30. "When this appointment (superintendent) is made, I will be glad to negotiate."

No one asked Commissioner R. Max Gard of Lisbon whether he would sign. Failing to get two signatures, the visitors left without indicating future action.

The agreement form would have made the AFL-CIO the bargaining agent for the purpose of bargaining for wages, fringes, hours of employment and other working conditions.

The agreement concluded, "the parties further agree to commence negotiations within (blank space to be filled in) days from April 6 for the purpose of arriving at a collective bargaining agreement covering the employes."

Boyd issued this statement today:

"At the commissioners' meeting March 27 when the union organizers were present, Commissioner Gard made a statement that the County Home has been a political football.

"Now in 1965 the leaders of the Democrat party in the county made the kickoff and the ball is in the field.

"While the two commissioners whom the people elected to set the County Home in order are attempting to retrieve the ball, the Democrats are planning to have this union run the interference and block the lawful procedures.

"To properly handle this task which the people have delegated us to do, I feel we have no authority whatsoever to agree to share the management or operation of the County Home with any organization."

COMMISSIONERS approved payment of $342 to Steve Hruby, Hanoverton R. D. 1, for a cow and calf mortally injured in an attack by stray dogs.

Walter McCoy, service officer for the Soldiers Relief Commission, was allowed $28.45 for taking a veteran to the Veterans Hospital in Cleveland Wednesday.

A contract for an administration docket for Probate Court was awarded William Lilienthal & Sons of Cambridge on a low bid of $195.

Completed applications are to be forwarded to the Department of State Personnel, Ohio Departments Building, Columbus, Ohio 43215, no later than April 19 in order to be included in this examination program, Ward said.

Crash Damages Cars On Pennsylvania Ave.

Two cars were damaged in a collision Thursday afternoon on Pennsylvania Ave. at Ravine St., police reported.

The crash involved a 1965 model station wagon driven by Georgetta Louis McCune, 37, of 131 Beechwood St. and a 1964 two - door sedan operated by Margaret A. Bock, 58, of 1058 Ephriam St., officers said.

The McCune car was proceeding east on Pennsylvania Ave. and the Bock car was moving off Ravine St. onto the thoroughfare. The mishap damaged the left rear fender of the McCune car and the right front fender and bumper of the Bock auto.

It would take more than 80,000 fleas to weigh one ounce.

Tentative Grant Made For Park Concession

A concession lease for Kennedy Park, south of Newell, was granted tentatively to the New Cumberland Realty Co. during a special meeting of the Hancock County Court of Commissioners Thursday at the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

The lease will be subject to the legal opinion of Prosecuting Attorney Floyd Tarr.

Edwin Flowers, New Cumberland attorney, represented the realty company, which he said is owned by Benny Phillips of New Cumberland, a county resident.

The commissioners also considered a proposal from Steubenville Marina Inc. They studied copies of letters sent by the Steubenville concern to the Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh setting forth their plan for the park.

Flowers said he also had contacted the Corps of Engineers concerning the regulations governing the operation of the park.

Jack Evans, chairman, presided.

Benefit Art Show Plans Advanced

The executive committee of the East Liverpool chapter of Hadassah, meeting Thursday night with Mrs. Harry Barlow of Broadview Circle, advanced plans for a benefit art show May 6-9.

Discussion was held on the patron's list for the program. Mrs. Alex Fisher reported many prospective patrons have not yet acknowledged invitations.

She said those who have received invitations have been urged to acknowledge as soon as possible.

Mrs. Fisher said Rep. Wayne L. Hays has indicated he will attend the champagne party May 6 to be held at the Route 170 farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Turk.

A letter from Safrai Galleries of New York indicated the works of artists are being packed and readied for shipment.

Mrs. William Sulkes reported there has been a very good response from area artists who will take part.

The next meeting will be Tuesday night with Mrs. Leo Greenburg of Broadview Circle.

Youngstowners Held For Market Burglary

James E. Ingram, 21, and William Mort, 18, of Youngstown were bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Thursday by County Judge Barry Dickson for breaking and entering.

The two were apprehended in connection with an entering of the Carter's Market of Route 7 near East Fairfield March 22. Their bonds were continued at $1,000 each.

Church Addition Plans Explained In East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — The fourth quarterly conference was held Thursday night at the Centenary Methodist Church. Dr. Ralph Gray, Steubenville District superintendent, presided.

Annual reports were heard. A congregational meeting was set for April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the church for final approval of plans for a new $150,000 educational wing. It will contain 12 rooms. A financial campaign was conducted in January and February.

The conference approved a slate of new officers for the year. The new trustees are F. Dale Moon, Mrs. Clifford Kibler and Robert Davis. They will serve three year terms.

Mrs. William McKee

Services for Mrs. Betty E. McKee, 41, of Hubbard, R.D. 2, will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Kelly Funeral Home in Hubbard. Burial will follow in Hubbard Cemetery.

Mrs. McKee was pronounced dead on arrival Wednesday morning at Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital following an apparent heart attack at her home. She was the wife of William McKee, a former resident of Salineville.

She was born in Hubbard and was a member of the Church of Christ there.

In addition to her husband, she leaves nine daughters, Carol Ann McKee, Virginia McKee, Connie McKee, Gigi McKee, Marlene McKee, Darlene McKee, Vicky Lynn McKee, Debbie McKee and Betty Jean McKee, and three sons, Ronnie McKee, Larry McKee and William McKee Jr., all at home; her mother, Mrs. Olive Singer of Hubbard, five sisters and three brothers.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and tonight from 7 to 9.

Mrs. Mary Lynch

Services for Mrs. Mary E. Lynch of 1054 Railroad St., who died Thursday morning, will be held Saturday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Ann's Catholic Church, East End. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Survivors include 16 grandchildren, 50 great - grandchildren and eight great-great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by a daughter, Mrs. Lorena Taylor, on June 14, 1962.

Friends may call at the Dawson Funeral Home today.

Tentative Grant Made For Park Concession

A concession lease for Kennedy Park, south of Newell, was granted tentatively to the New Cumberland Realty Co. during a special meeting of the Hancock County Court of Commissioners Thursday at the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

The lease will be subject to the legal opinion of Prosecuting Attorney Floyd Tarr.

Edwin Flowers, New Cumberland attorney, represented the realty company, which he said is owned by Benny Phillips of New Cumberland, a county resident.

The commissioners also considered a proposal from Steubenville Marina Inc. They studied copies of letters sent by the Steubenville concern to the Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh setting forth their plan for the park.

Flowers said he also had contacted the Corps of Engineers concerning the regulations governing the operation of the park.

Jack Evans, chairman, presided.

Benefit Art Show Plans Advanced

The executive committee of the East Liverpool chapter of Hadassah, meeting Thursday night with Mrs. Harry Barlow of Broadview Circle, advanced plans for a benefit art show May 6-9.

Discussion was held on the patron's list for the program. Mrs. Alex Fisher reported many prospective patrons have not yet acknowledged invitations.

She said those who have received invitations have been urged to acknowledge as soon as possible.

Mrs. Fisher said Rep. Wayne L. Hays has indicated he will attend the champagne party May 6 to be held at the Route 170 farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Turk.

A letter from Safrai Galleries of New York indicated the works of artists are being packed and readied for shipment.

Mrs. William Sulkes reported there has been a very good response from area artists who will take part.

The next meeting will be Tuesday night with Mrs. Leo Greenburg of Broadview Circle.

Youngstowners Held For Market Burglary

James E. Ingram, 21, and William Mort, 18, of Youngstown were bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Thursday by County Judge Barry Dickson for breaking and entering.

The two were apprehended in connection with an entering of the Carter's Market of Route 7 near East Fairfield March 22. Their bonds were continued at $1,000 each.

Church Addition Plans Explained In East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — The fourth quarterly conference was held Thursday night at the Centenary Methodist Church. Dr. Ralph Gray, Steubenville District superintendent, presided.

Annual reports were heard. A congregational meeting was set for April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the church for final approval of plans for a new $150,000 educational wing. It will contain 12 rooms. A financial campaign was conducted in January and February.

The conference approved a slate of new officers for the year. The new trustees are F. Dale Moon, Mrs. Clifford Kibler and Robert Davis. They will serve three year terms.

The food stamp coupons are redeemable at retail stores designated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The federal government, through the Department of Agriculture, provides additional free or bonus stamps in the amounts necessary to insure nutritional diets for needy families, it was explained by Vincent.

Man Faces Charges In Traffic Fatality

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—James C. Bridgeforth has been charged with two counts of traffic manslaughter in the death of Donald A. Smith, 39, of Dayton.

Bridgeforth, 20, an airman at nearby Wright - Patterson Air Force Base, allegedly was driving a car earlier in the week that struck and killed Smith as he was putting gasoline into the tank of his car parked off a roadway near the base.

Hookstown's Grange Sets Dance Class

Plans for sponsoring lessons on Western style square dancing at the Hookstown Grange Hall April 19 at 8 p.m. were made at a meeting of the Grange Thursday night.

The public may attend the lessons to be given by Eugene C. Jeans of Toronto.

In honor of Grange Youth Month, a program of readings and quizzes on youth of yesterday and today was featured.

Evert Maki, master, announced the Youth and Junior Granges will be in charge of the next Grange meeting April 20.

The home economics committee reported a cookie sale will begin soon with proceeds to be used for CARE packages, debt retirement on the National Grange Building at Washington and for the general fund of the Hookstown Grange.

Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. Jack Johnson and Mrs. John S. Laughlin were co - chairmen of an Easter party for youngsters March 22.

Mrs. Gregg McElhaney, home economics chairman, read an article on poisons in the home.

A public card party will be sponsored Saturday night at the Grange Hall for charity.

A 50th anniversary dinner will be served by the Grange April 13 for the Fairview Grange of Pughtown.

The Centennial candle was lit.

Mrs. Jack Staley of Hanover Township was named a member of the community progress committee. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Virginia Rogers, Robert O. Dawson and Harry Shane.

Federal Board Trims Rate To 4%

Discount Rate Cut Seen Trouble For Surtax Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first drop in the Federal Reserve discount rate in more than 6½ years could spell more trouble for the administration's plan for a 6 per cent surtax on corporate and most individual incomes.

The board, in a dramatic move Thursday which could signal a further general easing of credit and lower interest rates, dropped the discount rate from 4.5 to 4 per cent over most of the country effective today.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said the action should reinforce opposition to the surtax plan designed partly to stem inflationary pressure expected by government economists later this year.

Proxmire said softening business conditions demanded the unanimous action taken Thursday by the board for 10 of its 12 districts. Although the Atlanta and St. Louis districts failed to seek a lower discount rate, they are expected to follow suit.

If government policy now is aimed at stimulating the economy, Proxmire said, "it would be a mistake to shove up taxes that would discourage business expansion at the same time we reduce interest rates to encourage business."

The Treasury Department welcomed the discount action as a sign of a "desirable further easing of credit availability and interest rate levels." The administration has sought lower interest rates.

Some government experts said the lower discount rate would act as a stimulant to the economy which is now more sluggish than the administration anticipated. This could give the administration stronger economic data to present to Congress later this spring in defending its surtax plan.

A lowering in the discount rate normally means lower interest rates for businessmen seeking loans and for consumers buying houses, automobiles and other goods on the installment plan.

Just how fast the lower discount rate might be felt on consumer loans is open to conjecture. One New York banker said loan demand still is good but in time consumers should be able to borrow money more cheaply.

The discount rate is the charge made by the Federal Reserve for funds borrowed by its more than 6,000 member banks to improve their reserve positions. Other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

The board said its action was in line with recent declines in interest rates and in keeping with its policy of assuring enough credit to permit orderly economic growth.

Banks have already lowered their prime lending rate from last year's peak 6 per cent to 5.5 per cent. This is the rate banks charge their most favored customers, usually corporations, for loans.

Woman, 87, Hurt In Beaver Crash

An 87-year-old Coraopolis woman was injured in a two-car collision on Route 18 about six miles south of Monaca Thursday afternoon.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said Mrs. George Jacobi of Shafer Rd., Coraopolis, was headed south and attempted to make a left turn into a market parking lot and collided with an oncoming auto driven by Susan Cusano, 28, of McKees Rocks.

Mrs. Jacobi suffered back and head injuries and was admitted to Aliquippa Hospital, where she was in "good" condition. Damage to the two autos totaled $850, officers said.

The mishap occurred at 3:45 p.m.

Judge Fines, Jails Driver

An East End man was fined and jailed on a traffic charge Thursday by County Judge Barry Dickson at East Palestine. Four other motorists were penalized.

John Lee Adkins of 933 St. George St., cited for reckless operation, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to two days in jail. He was placed on three years probation and given a 30-day license suspension.

Fined for speeding were Eric Leonard Zipperian of 896 Township Line Rd., Wellsville, $20 and costs, and Samuel E. Ross of 373 Main St., East Palestine, and Russell Poling of 2208 Ohio Ave., East Liverpool, $30 and costs.

Paul Emmett Doll of East Palestine R.D. 1 was fined $15 and costs on a stop violation.

Discount Rate Cut Seen Trouble For Surtax Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first drop in the Federal Reserve discount rate in more than 6½ years could spell more trouble for the administration's plan for a 6 per cent surtax on corporate and most individual incomes.

The board, in a dramatic move Thursday which could signal a further general easing of credit and lower interest rates, dropped the discount rate from 4.5 to 4 per cent over most of the country effective today.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said the action should reinforce opposition to the surtax plan designed partly to stem inflationary pressure expected by government economists later this year.

Proxmire said softening business conditions demanded the unanimous action taken Thursday by the board for 10 of its 12 districts. Although the Atlanta and St. Louis districts failed to seek a lower discount rate, they are expected to follow suit.

If government policy now is aimed at stimulating the economy, Proxmire said, "it would be a mistake to shove up taxes that would discourage business expansion at the same time we reduce interest rates to encourage business."

The Treasury Department welcomed the discount action as a sign of a "desirable further easing of credit availability and interest rate levels." The administration has sought lower interest rates.

Some government experts said the lower discount rate would act as a stimulant to the economy which is now more sluggish than the administration anticipated. This could give the administration stronger economic data to present to Congress later this spring in defending its surtax plan.

A lowering in the discount rate normally means lower interest rates for businessmen seeking loans and for consumers buying houses, automobiles and other goods on the installment plan.

Just how fast the lower discount rate might be felt on consumer loans is open to conjecture. One New York banker said loan demand still is good but in time consumers should be able to borrow money more cheaply.

The discount rate is the charge made by the Federal Reserve for funds borrowed by its more than 6,000 member banks to improve their reserve positions. Other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

The board said its action was in line with recent declines in interest rates and in keeping with its policy of assuring enough credit to permit orderly economic growth.

Banks have already lowered their prime lending rate from last year's peak 6 per cent to 5.5 per cent. This is the rate banks charge their most favored customers, usually corporations, for loans.

Woman, 87, Hurt In Beaver Crash

An 87-year-old Coraopolis woman was injured in a two-car collision on Route 18 about six miles south of Monaca Thursday afternoon.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said Mrs. George Jacobi of Shafer Rd., Coraopolis, was headed south and attempted to make a left turn into a market parking lot and collided with an oncoming auto driven by Susan Cusano, 28, of McKees Rocks.

Mrs. Jacobi suffered back and head injuries and was admitted to Aliquippa Hospital, where she was in "good" condition. Damage to the two autos totaled $850, officers said.

The mishap occurred at 3:45 p.m.

Judge Fines, Jails Driver

An East End man was fined and jailed on a traffic charge Thursday by County Judge Barry Dickson at East Palestine. Four other motorists were penalized.

John Lee Adkins of 933 St. George St., cited for reckless operation, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to two days in jail. He was placed on three years probation and given a 30-day license suspension.

Fined for speeding were Eric Leonard Zipperian of 896 Township Line Rd., Wellsville, $20 and costs, and Samuel E. Ross of 373 Main St., East Palestine, and Russell Poling of 2208 Ohio Ave., East Liverpool, $30 and costs.

Paul Emmett Doll of East Palestine R.D. 1 was fined $15 and costs on a stop violation.

Hunt For Boy Believed Drowned Called Off

MORROW, Ohio (AP) —The search for a small boy supposedly drowned in Todd's Fork near this Warren County town has been called off.

Sheriff Byron C. Kennard said no one in the area has reported a child missing and search of the creek and Little Miami River had no results Thursday. A youth told the sheriff Wednesday night he saw a boy of about 7 go under in the creek.

Plans Aired For Midland Band's Tour

Plans for the Midland High School band trip to Washington next week were outlined by Louis Morace, director, during the meeting of parents and band members Wednesday night at the high school forum.

The trip is being sponsored by the Band Boosters Club.

Morace and Mrs. Maurice J. Newman, president, discussed rules and regulations and helped parents sign necessary papers permitting their children to make the trip. Morace also discussed long-range plans for the band.

The band trip will begin at midnight next Wednesday when students leave by chartered buses from the high school. They expect to arrive in Arlington, Va., a mile from the capitol, at 8 p.m. Thursday. The entire group will stay at the Arva Motel in Arlington.

Chaperones are Mrs. Sullivan Tonti, Charles R. Schmitt, John F. Shovlin III, Mrs. Frank Sepos, Mrs. Thomas Wuchina, Mrs. Frank Pedro, Mrs. William Marcum, Mrs. Michael Prodonovich, Mrs. Dom Trivilino, Mrs. Stephen Francis, Mrs. Joseph Roszler, Mrs. Rudy Trbovich and Mrs. Joseph Franzetta. Morace and Mrs. Newman will be overseers of the group. A registered nurse will accompany the tour.

On April 13 the group will visit the House of Representatives, meet Rep. Frank Clark, tour the Rayburn Building and Washington.

On April 14, they will tour the White House, visit the Voice of America Broadcasting Station, and in the evening take a 4-hour boat cruise with dancing and visit an amusement park.

On April 15, points to be visited include Mt. Vernon, Arlington National Cemetery and President John F. Kennedy's grave. The trip home will include a visit to the Gettysburg battlefield.

The estimated time of arrival back in Midland is about midnight Friday.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

QUESTION: What did Jesus mean when He said: "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you?"

ANSWER: Jesus simply means that when we ask according to God's will, seek where he has directed, and knock at his appointed door, then the blessings asked, sought, and knocked for shall be obtained.

This same principle is taught in other passages in the New Testament. "If we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us" (1 John 4:14). "Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss" (James 4:3). "Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able. When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are" (Lk. 13:24, 25).

Each of these passages show that the asking, seeking, and knocking must be done according to the will of God.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

QUESTION: What did Jesus mean when He said: "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you?"

ANSWER: Jesus simply means that when we ask according to God's will, seek where he has directed, and knock at his appointed door, then the blessings asked, sought, and knocked for shall be obtained.

This same principle is taught in other passages in the New Testament. "If we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us" (1 John 4:14). "Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss" (James 4:3). "Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able. When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are" (Lk. 13:24, 25).

Each of these passages show that the asking, seeking, and knocking must be done according to the will of God.

Facts and Fallacies about Jewelry

by W. D. ORR

FALLACY:
The thicker a diamond is, the more "fire" it captures.
FACT:
Thickness does not always mean brilliance or added value in a diamond, the birthstone for April. The stone's flawlessness, and especially the perfection of its cutting, creates the fiery interplay of light in the gem. A stone that is too thick can actually "leak" light and have a dull or "sleepy" cast.
CONCLUSION:
To be sure of choosing a diamond of true brilliance and fine cutting, let us show you our dazzling diamond collection.

Facts and Fallacies about Jewelry

by W. D. ORR

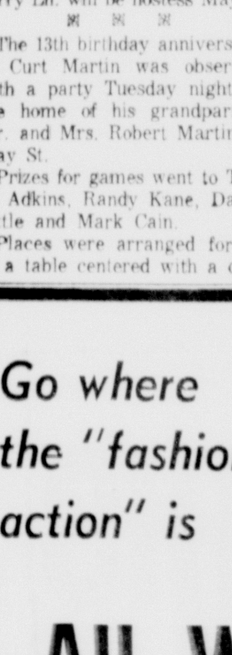

FALLACY:
The thicker a diamond is, the more "fire" it captures.
FACT:
Thickness does not always mean brilliance or added value in a diamond, the birthstone for April. The stone's flawlessness, and especially the perfection of its cutting, creates the fiery interplay of light in the gem. A stone that is too thick can actually "leak" light and have a dull or "sleepy" cast.
CONCLUSION:
To be sure of choosing a diamond of true brilliance and fine cutting, let us show you our dazzling diamond collection.

Mother Of Bataan Survivor Dies At 72

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) —A mother who survived the worries of having a son captured on Bataan in 1941 died Thursday at her home while the son was revisiting the scene of his wartime ordeals.

Mrs. Mary K. Hrupcho, 72, a native of Czechslovakia, died just two days after bidding goodbye to her son, Joseph, returning with other Bataan Death March survivors for dedication of a monument there. Surviving family members said they did not wish to notify Joseph Hrupcho of the death until he is ready to return home from his planned 15-day visit to the Philippines.

Divorce Made Easier By New Nevada Law

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — A new law makes divorces easier in Nevada, the pioneer in quick divorce.

Gov. Paul Laxalt signed Thursday a measure adding incompatibility as a ground and reducing from three years to one the time required for a divorce on grounds of separation.

Attorneys backing the bill argued that incompatibility would be a more realistic ground for divorce than "extreme cruelty."

Nevada reduced its residency requirement for divorce to six weeks in 1931, the same year it legalized casino gambling.

Mother Of Bataan Survivor Dies At 72

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) —A mother who survived the worries of having a son captured on Bataan in 1941 died Thursday at her home while the son was revisiting the scene of his wartime ordeals.

Mrs. Mary K. Hrupcho, 72, a native of Czechslovakia, died just two days after bidding goodbye to her son, Joseph, returning with other Bataan Death March survivors for dedication of a monument there. Surviving family members said they did not wish to notify Joseph Hrupcho of the death until he is ready to return home from his planned 15-day visit to the Philippines.

Divorce Made Easier By New Nevada Law

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — A new law makes divorces easier in Nevada, the pioneer in quick divorce.

Gov. Paul Laxalt signed Thursday a measure adding incompatibility as a ground and reducing from three years to one the time required for a divorce on grounds of separation.

Attorneys backing the bill argued that incompatibility would be a more realistic ground for divorce than "extreme cruelty."

Nevada reduced its residency requirement for divorce to six weeks in 1931, the same year it legalized casino gambling.

Tent Purchases Eyed By Ohioville's Scouts

Plans were made to purchase seven tents when Midland Heights Boy Scout Troop 493 met Wednesday night at the Community Building. The tents will be used for the spring camporee at Camp Baker May 19-21.

The Scouts raised the funds to purchase the tents by selling fire extinguishers. They also raised money by catching rabbits in box traps and releasing them on the Midland Sportsmen's Farm for a fee.

Mike Gengarella, Scoutmaster, led group singing for the 19 boys attending. The next meeting will be Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Lisbon Church Will Build 2-Story Education Center

LISBON — St. George Catholic Church will erect a two-story education center on the parking lot north of the church.

The building committee has approved preliminary plans by Hank Saxton, Warren Architect, and will accept bids as soon as working drawings are approved by Youngstown Diocese officials.

Committee members hope to be able to begin construction in May. They estimate the cost at $100,000 to $125,000.

Plans call for a 48-by-90-foot block building with brick veneer. It will have a large auditorium, kitchen, furnace room and storage space on the first floor and eight classrooms upstairs.

By locating the building at the west end of the lot, with the length of the building running north and south, the remainder of the lot will be available for parking, church officials explained.

The education center will replace the parish hall, which will be razed so the site, east of the church, can be used for additional parking.

Committee members said the new center will be used for parish classes in Catholic doctrine after school, on Saturdays and in the summer, as well as for public meetings and dinners. The Rev. Stewart Platt is pastor.

Robert G. Taylor, 18, and Terry Lee Dotson, 19, both of Lisbon R.D. 1, and Wayne Clyde Boso, 22, Lisbon R.D. 3, grand larceny, Feb. 17, in theft of four hubcaps from Sam Brown Dodge, Salem, and four wire hubcaps from James Feiler Jr., S. Ellsworth Ave., Salem.

Thomas A. Steele, 21; Gene Arthur Cope, 18, and Raymond Howard Riley, all of Darlington R.D. 2, burglary last January at John Fox's J. & A. Service Station in Unity Township.

Thomas A. Steele, Robert L. Steele, 18, and Elmer W. Steele, 22, also of Darlington R.D. 2, burglary Jan. 13 at a building at rear of Sohio service station, Martin and Market Sts., East Palestine.

Nicholas W. Gologram, 49 Main St., Leetonia, grand larceny, March 16, theft of $113 from Harley A. Welker, Lisbon R.D. 5, at Village Restaurant, N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem.

Albert Crissman, Coal Hollow Rd., Wellsville, incest.

Martha Hanley, 29, of 421 W. Maple St., Lisbon, forgery of a $95 check March 3 in Salem.

Commenting on its inspection of the County Jail, the jury said, "We found the offices,kitchen and all blocks to be clean and well maintained."

THE JURY suggested that some firm experienced in the use of electronics for transmitting voice sounds be contacted to see if there is some safe method of improving the voice communication system between prisoners and visitors. Previous grand juries called attention to the same problem.

The jury also suggested replacement of a "badly-stained" toilet bowl in the receiving cell block. The report concluded:

"We are asking that courts of justice throughout the county be more strict in applying the law, less lenient in applying the penalties for the law broken by the subjects held for trial. Also that a well-prepared transcript, with complete documented evidence as found, be carefully prepared when transmitted to a court for further action, with proper dates, time and conditions attending the infraction."

Fullen Looks 'Ahead, Back' During OSU Alumni Meeting

Seventy - three attended the annual dinner meeting of the Ohio State Alumni Club of Southern Columbiana County Wednesday night at the East Liverpool Country Club.

John B. Fullen, director of alumni affairs, was guest speaker. His topic "Looking Ahead, Backwards," reviewed his work with the association over the years.

He explained how, "with the help of faithful alumni," he and others were able to make the association one of the world leaders, second only to those at Harvard and Yale.

The association has helped bring outstanding teachers and workers in research to the university through millions of dollars of fellowships and grants.

Other money has been used to help others finish school and buy new research equipment.

Fullen went on to explain that the James Thurber Library will be the finest of its kind.

His closing remarks were, "It takes a long time to develop a good university and you can judge a university by its pride. Our slogan is 'Educating for Citizenship'."

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey commented on Fullen's topic and noted that Fullen will retire in July following 39 years of service to the university.

The invocation was given by Rev. Fr. Lawler.

Dr. C. Marvin Kinsey led group singing, accompanied by Miss Mary Kinsey.

A slate of officers was read by the chairman of the nominating committee, Miss Gladys DeBolt. It includes J. Warren Bettis, president; Roger Babb, vice president, and Mrs. Charles Lang, secretary - treasurer. The Board of Directors slate includes Dr. William Bartolovich and Miss Ruth Winland, three - year terms; John Gilkes and Charles Lang, two - year terms, and William Kozel and Dr. C. Marvin Kinsey, one-year terms.

Judge Louis Tobin presented a 50-year pin to Francis Cloran, who is celebrating his 50th year since he was graduated from Ohio State University.

Daniel Heinlen, field secretary for the association, discussed the need for passage of the Ohio bond issue in the May primary.

Dr. Bartolovich, president, presented Heinlen and Fullen with sets of dishes.

Robert Beatty received a blanket from a sale conducted by Gilkes.

Fr. Lawler offered the benediction.

Queen Crowned By Fitness Club

Miss Bonnie Pasco was crowned queen for losing the most weight during March when the East Liverpool Women's Physical Fitness Club met Wednesday night at the Eagles Hall.

She was given a sash and a basket of fruit.

Mrs. Sally Lipscomb was crowned champion for losing the most weight between January and April. She was given a gift of money and a sash.

Marching was led by Mrs. Dorothy Ganas and Mrs. Lana White. Volleyball was played.

City Woman Prepares To Tour With Singers

Mrs. Beulah Palmer of 955 Ohio Ave., will leave Sunday for Norfolk, Va., to join her son and daughter - in - law, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Palmer, and the singing group, "Rick and the Legends," for a tour of the country.

Palmer and another fellow in the group, Jerry Nolan, were originally from this area. The group will open April 17 at Cape Cod, Mass., and will eventually work its way to East Liverpool.

Mrs. Beulah Palmer, who paints landscapes, said she hopes to paint and get new ideas for paintings during the trip. Cheryl Jean Palmer, 4, will accompany her mother.

Candidates Join In Meeting Here Of GOP Groups

Forty attend a "meet - your - candidate" meeting of two Republican groups here Wednesday night.

Uniting in the session were the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club and the Women's Republican Club.

Church Honors Chester Woman For Her Service

For her years of service as organist and choir director, special recognition has been given Mrs. Jean Martin by the congregation of the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Martin, of 523 Louisiana Ave., has served for 31 years in the positions.

She was honored with a "coffee hour" at the church attended by 250.

She was accorded the title of "organist emeritus" of the church, the first time such an award has been bestowed.

Mrs. Martin's five children and grandchildren took part in the event.

Oldtime Movies Seen By Kiwanis At Ladies' Event

The oldtime movie era returned for Kiwanis Club members and wives at a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Early day movies of Charlie Chaplin, "The Little Rascals" and Abbott and Costello were screened by Don Eckert, with Miss JoAnn Vannoy providing the old - fashioned accompaniment.

Dayton Allen, program chairman, and Dave Kennedy distributed peanuts and popcorn along the aisles to add to the nostalgic atmosphere.

Eckert spoke briefly of the crude equipment and natural lighting used in the first days of films, but pointed out the comedy style of such actors as Chaplin, W. C. Fields and Laurel and Hardy remains ageless.

Fined For Speeding

SUMMITVILLE — Leonard L. Green, 21, of Magnolia, Ohio, was fined $10 and costs for speeding Thursday by Mayor Ernest Phillips. He was arrested April 1 by Forrest Young.

Plans Completed For Benefit Sale

Plans were completed for a rummage sale April 17-19 during the meeting of the Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon at the parish hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The sale will be conducted at the City Market.

Business was conducted by William Osborne, president.

There were 137 present.

Oldtime Movies Seen By Kiwanis At Ladies' Event

The oldtime movie era returned for Kiwanis Club members and wives at a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Early day movies of Charlie Chaplin, "The Little Rascals" and Abbott and Costello were screened by Don Eckert, with Miss JoAnn Vannoy providing the old - fashioned accompaniment.

Dayton Allen, program chairman, and Dave Kennedy distributed peanuts and popcorn along the aisles to add to the nostalgic atmosphere.

Eckert spoke briefly of the crude equipment and natural lighting used in the first days of films, but pointed out the comedy style of such actors as Chaplin, W. C. Fields and Laurel and Hardy remains ageless.

Fined For Speeding

SUMMITVILLE — Leonard L. Green, 21, of Magnolia, Ohio, was fined $10 and costs for speeding Thursday by Mayor Ernest Phillips. He was arrested April 1 by Forrest Young.

Church Honors Chester Woman For Her Service

For her years of service as organist and choir director, special recognition has been given Mrs. Jean Martin by the congregation of the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Martin, of 523 Louisiana Ave., has served for 31 years in the positions.

She was honored with a "coffee hour" at the church attended by 250.

She was accorded the title of "organist emeritus" of the church, the first time such an award has been bestowed.

Mrs. Martin's five children and grandchildren took part in the event.

Plans Completed For Benefit Sale

Plans were completed for a rummage sale April 17-19 during the meeting of the Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon at the parish hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The sale will be conducted at the City Market.

Business was conducted by William Osborne, president.

There were 137 present.

Measles Day Set In Midland Area

Final arrangements have been made for a "Measles Shoot-Out" to be held in Midland and ten other Beaver County sites Sunday.

All children from one to eight who have never had measles or who have not already received the measles vaccine should receive the vaccine at the clinics to be held from 1 to 5 p.m.

Dr. Raymond L. Sheets, general chairman for the county project, said the mass measles immunization program is directed at the young children because they have the highest incidence of measles and its complications.

"Measles is far from being just a harmless childhood disease," he said.

"In the United States, approximately 400 deaths from measles occur each year. Encephalitis, or brain inflammation, the most serious complications of regular measles, is estimated to occur once in 1,000 cases.

"It ends fatally for a fourth of its victims, leaves another third permanently paralyzed or mentally impaired. Other measles complications include ear infection, pneumonia and other respiratory ills. Measles vaccine offers a simple, safe and effective means of preventing measles and its complications."

The sites will be Lincoln High School, Midland; Ambridge Senior High School; Beaver Area High School, Beaver; Rochester High School; Aliquippa Junior High School; Freedom Area High School, Freedom; Chippewa Elementary School, Beaver Falls; Beaver Falls Area Senior High School, Beaver Falls; Hopewell Senior High School, Hopewell; Monaca Senior High School, and the New Brighton Junior High School.

Times for the innoculations will be from 1 p. m. to 5 p.m. on "Shoot-Out" day. There will be a coordinator, a medical doctor and a nurse on duty throughout the innoculation period.

At Ambridge the coordinator will be Attorney Harold Roth and co-coordinator, Frank Pallan. At Beaver the coordinator will be Jack Waddell and co-coordinator, Jack Supler, at Midland the coordinator will be Victor Martinetti and co-coordinator, Mrs. Nancy Masters; at Rochester, George A. Snyder and co-coordinator, Joseph Hollander; at Aliquippa, Carl Bear; at Freedom, Ralph Zinkham and co-coordinator, Wordell Gary; at Chippewa Elementary, Robert Covert; at Hopewell, Sam Lippincott; at Monaca, Paul Saint Eufemia; at New Brighton, Earl Maxwell and at the Beaver Falls High School, Dennis Cook.

Dr. Sheets said, "The inoculations will be free. However, containers will be provided for those who wish to make a contribution."

He pointed out that each dose costs from 83 cents to $1.10 in 50 dose vials. The state purchases the doses for $1.10 each. The federal government reimburses the state 37 cents for each dose given to pre-school children, resulting in a cost to the state of 83 cents. Individual doses which are purchased privately cost approximately $1.87 each.

The government's part in the program began in 1962 with the Vaccination Assistance Act. In 1965 the act was amended to include Measles. The statewide program is being administered through the Communicable Disease Division of the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

Officials said some children should not receive the vaccine such as those under current treatment for TB, leukemia or cancer, those allergic to eggs or egg products, or any with a high fever on Sunday.

The vaccine will be administered by a state technician with the new air pressure device against the upper arm, and a single dose will confer lifetime immunity.

As to whether there may be side effects, a few children may develop a fever seven to ten days afterward, and a smaller number may develop a rash. These symptoms last only a day or so, and the children usually act well.

If a high fever persists or other signs of illness appear, a physician should be consulted.

If a parent is uncertain whether a child has had measles or the vaccine before, the child should still be vaccinated, since there is no harm in re-vaccinating.

All children must be accompanied by adults.

Officials explained the vaccine is not being administered to adults or youngsters over eight because the majority of these individuals are already immune and such a large scale program would be medically and financially impractical.

County Nears $17,000 Goal In Heart Plea

LISBON — Columbiana County's Heart Fund collection is approaching the $17,000 goal, according to Kenneth Hiscox of Lisbon and George Wilson of Wellsville, co-chairmen.

Total receipts to date are $16,246, compared with $13,518 last year. The campaign will remain open until the beginning of the fiscal year July 1.

Twenty-nine of the 34 collection areas exceeded 1966 totals.

Mrs. Margaret Violand of East Palestine, field representative of the Heart Association of Eastern Onio, said Columbiana County was the first in the district to surpass the 1966 collection.

Distribution Planned In Surplus Food Plan

Surplus food distribution will be held Monday at the USA-CIO union hall at Midland for registered recipients residing at Midland, Industry, Ohioville and Smiths Ferry areas.

Benedict Zupi, Beaver County surplus food administrator, said each applicant must have his identification card with him. Hours will be from 11 a. m. to 3 p.m.

Church Guild, Other Groups Hold Lisbon Area Meetings

LISBON — The Girls Guild of St. Jacob's United Church of Christ met Wednesday night at the home of Miss Kathy Cladwell of Columbiana Rd., with Mrs. William Ring a guest.

Kathy Halverstadt presided during the business meeting and also presented the program topic, "Old Enough to Fight—Old Enough to Vote."

The balance of the evening was spent making decorations for the annual mother-daughter banquet, instructed by Mrs. Jan Halverstadt and Mrs. John Halverstadt, advisers. Remembrance cards were sent to members of the guild and also the church.

Hostesses for the meeting May 3 will be Miss Marsha Ferguson of N. Jefferson St.

40 Attend Chapter Meeting

Forty attended the meeting of the Lisbon Chapter of a Salem Hospital Auxiliary Wednesday at the Methodist Church, with Mrs. Thomas Wetzel, chairman, Mrs. James Berry, Mrs. William Ferguson and Mrs. Roy James serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Donald Dickey, president, conducted the business session held following the customary noon sack luncheon. Work accomplished during the morning session included surgical sheets and bandage pads for the Columbiana County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Perry Baker will be chairman of the hostess committee for the next May 3 meeting at the Elkton Methodist Church.

His Own Emergency

BHOPAL, India (AP) — A village doctor who responded to an "emergency" call found himself in the clutches of bandit "patients" who held him 20 hours until he could arrange for payment of ransom.

Increase Due In Chinaware Pension Plan

Higher pension payments will apply to chinaware industry employes who retired on or after April 1, according to trustees of the Chinaware - IBOP Pension Trust Fund.

The larger pensions will apply to retirees of seven firms, including: Sterling China Co. and Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville; Mayer China Co. of Beaver Falls; Buffalo China, Inc., of Buffalo, N. Y.; Walker China Co. of Bedford; Jackson Vitrified China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa., and the Allegheny-Buffalo China Co.

The change means that an employe who retires at 65 with 30 years of pension credit now will receive $51 a month, compared with $46.50 previously.

The new pension amounts are based on $1.70 a month for each full year of pension credit at retirement time. The increase does not apply to persons who retired before last April 1. They will continue to receive checks based on $1.55 a month for each full year of pension credit.

The trustees announced the increased payments will be made without any additional employer contributions. They said the increases were made possible by the sound actuarial condition of the fund, good returns and low administrative costs.

Suspension Erased

NEW WATERFORD — The Ohio Liquor Control Board at Columbus said a suspension ordered against Carole M. Mercure, executrix of the estate of Jesse Mercure, for delinquent payment of sales tax has been rescinded. The payment was made in full March 23. The suspension was to have started April 14.

Conservation District Plans For Soil Stewardship Week

"Three - Quarters of Our Land" is the theme of the 1967 Soil Stewardship Week observance sponsored by the Soil and Water Conservation districts.

The week designated for the observance is April 30 to May 7.

These special days are called Rogation Days, "set aside to acknowledge before God our gratitude for His gifts of soil and all the bountiful resources associated with it."

"Three - Quarters of Our Land" refers to the fact that about 75 per cent of the land is in private ownership; "thus the need for all to give special attention and thought to the task of conserving and developing the soil, water, timber, and wildlife resources bestowed upon us by the Creator."

The supervisors have available for the use of clergymen of all faiths a booklet to assist them in leading the congregations they serve to an appropriate observance of Soil Stewardship Week, or Rural Life Sunday, as observed by the 4-H Clubs.

In addition to the booklets, the supervisors have made available church bulletin folders, church bulletin inserts and related literature, which may be obtained by contacting the Soil and Water Conservation District office at 41 N. Park Ave., Lisbon.

Tiernan Made Official Winner In Rhode Island

DiPrete, the pre-election favorite, advocated a suspension in bombing North Vietnam in the hope it might lead to peace talks.

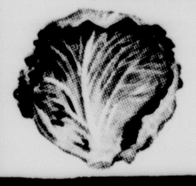

Tiernan's plurality was 313 votes out of the nearly 114,000 cast March 28 to choose a successor to the late Democratic Rep. John E. Fogarty.

About 3,000 votes went to an independent candidate, the Rev. Albert Q. Perry of Providence, who ran as a pacifist.

The week designated for the observance is April 30 to May 7.

These special days are called Rogation Days, "set aside to acknowledge before God our gratitude for His gifts of soil and all the bountiful resources associated with it."

"Three - Quarters of Our Land" refers to the fact that about 75 per cent of the land is in private ownership; "thus the need for all to give special attention and thought to the task of conserving and developing the soil, water, timber, and wildlife resources bestowed upon us by the Creator."

The supervisors have available for the use of clergymen of all faiths a booklet to assist them in leading the congregations they serve to an appropriate observance of Soil Stewardship Week, or Rural Life Sunday, as observed by the 4-H Clubs.

In addition to the booklets, the supervisors have made available church bulletin folders, church bulletin inserts and related literature, which may be obtained by contacting the Soil and Water Conservation District office at 41 N. Park Ave., Lisbon.

Tiernan Made Official Winner In Rhode Island

DiPrete, the pre-election favorite, advocated a suspension in bombing North Vietnam in the hope it might lead to peace talks.

Tiernan's plurality was 313 votes out of the nearly 114,000 cast March 28 to choose a successor to the late Democratic Rep. John E. Fogarty.

About 3,000 votes went to an independent candidate, the Rev. Albert Q. Perry of Providence, who ran as a pacifist.

Pirates, Orioles Again . . .

Another baseball season opens next week and we feel again this year, as last, that the Pittsburgh Pirates have an excellent chance to win all the marbles in the National League.

In fact we are sticking to the same choices we made in 1966, Pittsburgh in the National and Baltimore in the American Loop.

The Pirates spent some money in obtaining Maury Wills and pitchers Dennis Ribant and Juan Pizarro. When the Pirates went after Wills it seemed to indicate they were going all out this year.

The Pittsburgh pitching staff still appears to be a big problem and was the main reason for the Pirates finishing three games behind after making a stout run for the pennant last year.

As far as Baltimore is concerned, the Robinson boys, especially Frank, are still around and the Orioles have some top talent from the minor leagues to back up the regulars.

San Francisco is our choice for the runnerup spot in the National League, while Detroit gets the nod for the second position in the American League.

We expect much improvement from the Atlanta Braves, who came on strong in the second half of last season, but still finished 10 games off the pace after a poor start.

Following are the 1967 selections:

NATIONAL LEAGUE	AMERICAN LEAGUE
1. Pittsburgh	1. Baltimore
2. San Francisco	2. Detroit
3. Atlanta	3. Minnesota
4. Philadelphia	4. Cleveland
5. Cincinnati	5. Chicago
6. St. Louis	6. California
7. Los Angeles	7. Kansas City
8. Houston	8. Washington
9. New York	9. New York
10. Chicago	10. Boston

Ohio Valley Classic Nears . . .

THE OHIO VALLEY Basketball Classic is coming to Midland next weekend and co-chairmen Bob Wycoff and Jim Migliore have attempted to line up some of the best basketball talent available.

The Classic has run into its share of conflicts this year after staging a successful event in East Liverpool a year ago, featuring such stars as Dave Bing of the Detroit Pistons, Cazzie Russell of the New York Knicks and Connie Hawkins, the ex-Globetrotter who stole the show in the first Classic.

A North-South game at Charlotte, N. C., on April 14 and one at Albuquerque, N. M., April 15 have been the main primary conflicts encountered so far by the local Classic, with not many of the country's top college players available at this time.

A good share of the nation's top talent will be playing at these events, but the Classic has landed Bob Lloyd, an All-American from Rutgers, for the Saturday night game, along with a group of the leading Little All-Americans in the country, including Westminster's John Fontanella, Akron's Bill Turner and Don Williams and Otterbein's Don Carlos. Lloyd will be appearing in the Charlotte game on Friday night, April 14.

Wycoff and Migliore announced they are endeavoring to land several professional players from the NBA and an announcement is expected in a few days on whether or not the pros will be available.

Three teams have entered so far, including the Hot Dog Shoppe with Hawkins & Co., Patterson Industries (Canisius College) and Johnson Pontiac, featuring Lloyd and small college All-Americans.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

FORMER Potter quarterback Chuck Winters will be one of five Pitt players who will miss the annual Blue-White intra-squad game at Pittsburgh Saturday.

The game will be played Saturday at 2 p. m. at Pitt Stadium.

THE FUTURE of high school athletics in Wellsville will be at stake at the May 2 primary. If a proposed school levy fails, all sports team at Wellsville High will be discontinued, including football and basketball, Supt. Lowell B. Myers, has pointed out.

School Marks Set By Kell, Stouffer

John Kell turned in a 10 second 100-yard dash for one of two school records and Jim Stouffer broke two field marks as Oak Glen won its second duel meet, 92-76 over Steubenville Central Thursday on Central's all-weather track.

Kell set a record in the 100 then came back to run the 220-yard dash in 22.5 for another school mark.

Stouffer set a school record in the discus at 135 feet, 10 inches. Although he finished second in the shot put his distance of 46 feet, 8 inches was a new Oak Glen mark. Rich Everly tied a school record in the broad jump at 20 feet.

Other winners include John Zielinsky who won the half mile in 2:16 and Jim Durham at 4:59 in the mile.

Rick Price set a track record in the two mile run with a clocking of 10:51.3.

Oak Glen's 440, mile and two-mile relay teams won while Dan Crago took first place in the high jump at 5-8 and Leroy Greathouse was timed in 17 flat over the high hurdles.

Oak Glen will compete in the Huntington Invitational meet April 15.

Riverview Advances To Semi-Finals

Riverview Florists moved into the semi-finals of the Beaver Falls Boosters tournament with a 97-85 overtime victory over Gip's All-Stars Thursday night.

Riverview will battle Monaca Elsie's in the first game tonight at 7 while Schenley High School led by Ken Durrett will meet Laurel Highlands at 8:30. The championship game will be played at 10:15.

East Liverpool's Vern Smith put the game into overtime in the last five seconds by sinking a basket that tied the score at 80-80. Riverview went on to outscore Gip's, 17-5 in the overtime period.

Estrada Perfect, May Win Pitching Job With Mets

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The veteran right-hander retired all 12 men he faced Thursday night in the New York Mets' 2-1 10-inning victory over St. Louis at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Estrada, listed on the roster of the Mets' Williamsport farm club in the Eastern League, most likely will move up to the parent club on the basis of his fine showing.

The former member of the Baltimore Orioles and Chicago Cubs, who spent most of last season with Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League, didn't pitch this spring until two weeks ago because of a blister on his index finger. The Mets obtained him from Vancouver for about $20,000.

Estrada got the victory when Jerry Grote doubled home Jerry Buchek in the bottom of the 10th. Don Cardwell pitched the frist six innings for New York, giving up three hits and striking out six. Bob Gibson yielded one run on five hits and struck out eight in going seven innings for St. Louis.

Woody Held's two-run double capped a three-run 10th-inning burst as Baltimore beat Minnesota 6-3 in a night game at Orlando, Fla., and the Chicago Cubs whipped the Chicago White Sox 8-4 under the lights at Arlington, Tex.

In day games, Washington outfumbled the New York Yankees but still won 5-2; California edged San Francisco 1-0; Atlanta slugged Houston 9-2; Boston topped Detroit 4-1; Kansas City trounced Philadelphia 11-3 and Cleveland routed Cincinnati 11-4.

Larry Haney hit a two-run homer and Frank Robinson connected with the bases empty for Baltimore. Bob Allison doubled in two runs for Minnesota.

The Cubs got five runs in the fourth, including two on a single by pitcher Ken Holtzman, in beating their city rival.

Washington's Joe Coleman pitched five hitless innings before giving up a run in the sixth in the Senators' victory over the Yankees at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Washington committed five errors and the Yankees three, including first baseman Mickey Mantle first of the spring.

George Brunet and Bill Kelso combined to shut out San Francisco for the Angels at Fresno, Calif. Jose Cardenal's sacrifice fly in the sixth drove in the game's only run.

Eddie Mathews' two-run homer in the sixth sparked Houston past Los Angeles at Wichita, Kan. Rusty Staub followed Mathews' homer with one of his own. Both blows came off Don Drysdale.

Boston scored three times in the sixth — twice on Tony Conigliaro's double and once on George Scott's single in beating Detroit at Lakeland, Fla. Willie Horton suffered a severe strain of his left calf muscles while running out a single which drove in Detroit's only run. He will be sidelined for 12 days.

Ed Charles hit a three-run homer in the third for Kansas City, which also scored six runs in the sixth against Philadelphia at Bradenton, Fla.

West Branch Tops Beaver Track Team

West Branch won nine of 15 events to send Beaver Local down to a 79-48 defeat in the Beavers first track meet of the season Thursday at Williamsport.

Jim Nuzum was a double winner for the Beavers with a 23.1 clocking in the low hurdles and a 25.4 time in the 220 yard dash.

Other firsts for the Beavers were turned in by Jim Webber 17.5 in the high hurdles, while field events were won by Allan Moore 41 feet, 1½ inches in the shot put, Don Lyle 17 feet, 8½ inches in the broad jump and Gary Neville who went 9 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault.

Wellsville only won three events but was without its regular sprint man Jack Young who was ill.

Bill Reed won the mile for Wellsville in 5:01 while Bob Morehead captured the 440 in 55.4. The 180 - yard relay team of Todd Weekley, Darryl West, Jerry McCauley and Don Russell won in 1:41.6.

Symons won the high hurdles in 16 flat, put the shot 45 feet, 1½ inches and won the discus at 135 feet.

Wellsville will play host to Beaver Local Tuesday.

Has 3-Shot Edge After 1st Round

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer went tromping through a muddy ditch, Jack Nicklaus floundered through woods and water. Billy Casper was bothered by the gusty, fickle winds.

But it was all clover for young Bert Yancey.

"It's a friendly course," the one-time West Point cadet said Thursday after forging a five-under-par 67 and taking a three-stroke lead in the first round of the 31st Masters Golf Tourney.

"It's a lovely course," Yancey continued after playing his first competitive round over the lush, flowery Augusta National course. A week ago he hadn't even seen the 6,980-yard, par 72 layout.

"Terrible," said Palmer, the only four-time champ and co-favorite with Nicklaus in the pre-tourney picking, who shot a 73.

"Not good," said Nicklaus, who has won the last two Masters' titles and had a first-round 72.

"Difficult," said Casper, the reigning U.S. Open champion who recovered for a solid 70.

"I love it," said Yancey.

But they agreed on one thing — 28-year-old Bert had played himself quite a round.

"I thought I'd do well," said Yancey, whose gallery on the first few holes consisted almost entirely of his mother, his father and his wife.

Casper, two over par in the early going, rallied with birdies on 8, 12, 16 and 18 and gained a share of second place with surprising Downing Gray, an amateur from Pensacola, Fla.

Tough old Julius Boros and Tony Jacklin, a 22-year-old English pro, were locked at 71 while Nicklaus and 10 others — including San Francisco amateur John Miller and veteran Sam Snead — were tied with 72s.

Yancey, a Tallahassee, Fla., native, had six birdies, one bogey, hit all 18 greens and 17 fairways in his excellent round.

Yancey came into his own on the pro tour last season, winning three tournaments and $42,938 after a series of earlier misfortunes and disappointments.

He entered West Point in 1957 and was captain of the golf team in 1960. Shortly after, in his senior year, he suffered a nervous breakdown and was discharged from the service after he was released from the hospital.

The husky, boyish-looking Yancey turned pro in 1961 and joined the tour the next year. He played in 11 tournaments, didn't win a cent and dropped out.

He rejoined the tour in 1964, but hadn't finished higher than 27th before winning the Azalea Open last year. He later added triumphs in the Memphis and Portland opens.

Palmer and Nicklaus were very critical of the course — but didn't offer it as an excuse. Palmer said the grass on the fairways was very deep "giving us a lot of grassy lies." Nicklaus made the same observation. "You can't put any spin on the ball," Jack said.

Both also complained of the wind, tricky, shifting and gusty.

Casper had even more trouble. He bogeyed the first hole when, on the backswing for his second shot, a spectator's hat blew to within a yard of the ball, he jumped and flubbed the shot.

Nicklaus hooked into the woods on his first drive and was in a lake on 13, and Palmer found a ditch on the same hole.

But it wasn't all woes. Australian Bruce Devlin got only the second double eagle in the tournament's history, on the 530-yard eighth. After a big drive, he sent a four-wood to the front of the green, it bounced once and was in the cup.

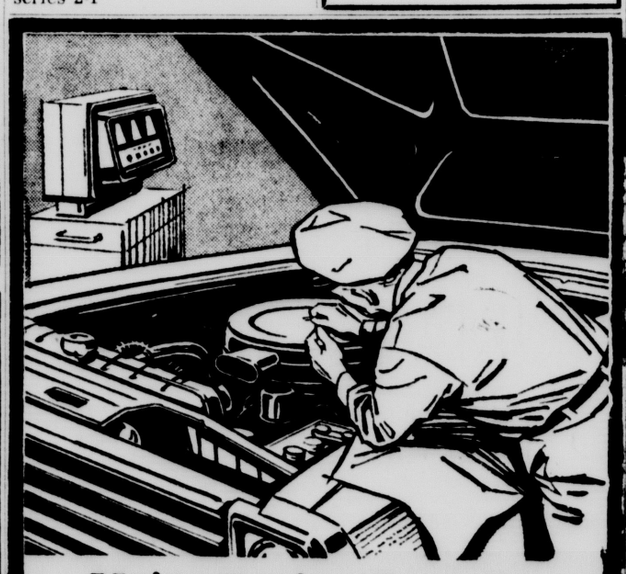

The only other double eagle in the Masters came in 1935, when Gene Sarazen, the eventual winner, holed out with a 220-yard shot on the 15th.

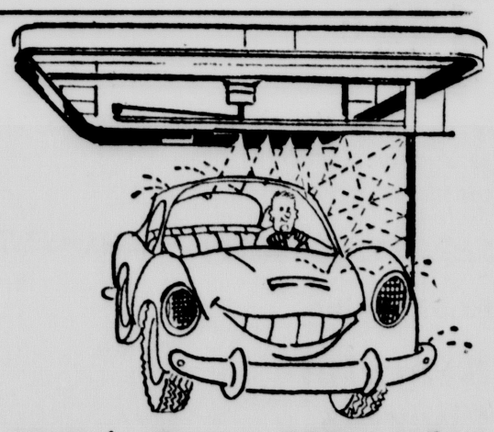

Sarazen had a double bogey seven on that hole Thursday, then declined to turn in a card. So did Claude Harmon. Dick Mayer shot a 79 but was disqualified for failing to sign his card.

That cut the field to 80 for today's second round.

Tough old Julius Boros and Tony Jacklin, a 22-year-old English pro, were locked at 71 while Nicklaus and 10 others — including San Francisco amateur John Miller and veteran Sam Snead — were tied with 72s.

Yancey, a Tallahassee, Fla., native, had six birdies, one bogey, hit all 18 greens and 17 fairways in his excellent round.

Yancey came into his own on the pro tour last season, winning three tournaments and $42,938 after a series of earlier misfortunes and disappointments.

He entered West Point in 1957 and was captain of the golf team in 1960. Shortly after, in his senior year, he suffered a nervous breakdown and was discharged from the service after he was released from the hospital.

The husky, boyish-looking Yancey turned pro in 1961 and joined the tour the next year. He played in 11 tournaments, didn't win a cent and dropped out.

He rejoined the tour in 1964, but hadn't finished higher than 27th before winning the Azalea Open last year. He later added triumphs in the Memphis and Portland opens.

Palmer and Nicklaus were very critical of the course — but didn't offer it as an excuse. Palmer said the grass on the fairways was very deep "giving us a lot of grassy lies." Nicklaus made the same observation. "You can't put any spin on the ball," Jack said.

Both also complained of the wind, tricky, shifting and gusty.

Casper had even more trouble. He bogeyed the first hole when, on the backswing for his second shot, a spectator's hat blew to within a yard of the ball, he jumped and flubbed the shot.

Nicklaus hooked into the woods on his first drive and was in a lake on 13, and Palmer found a ditch on the same hole.

But it wasn't all woes. Australian Bruce Devlin got only the second double eagle in the tournament's history, on the 530-yard eighth. After a big drive, he sent a four-wood to the front of the green, it bounced once and was in the cup.

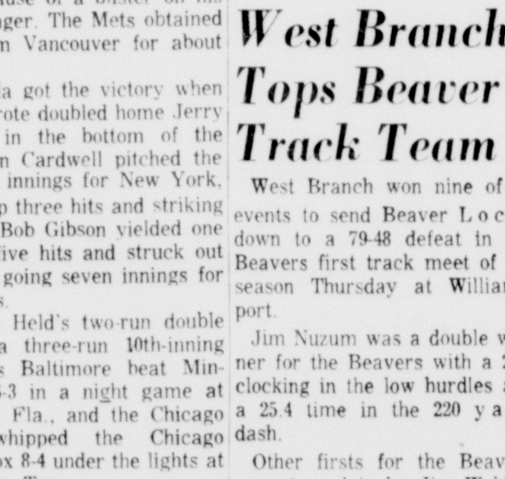

The only other double eagle in the Masters came in 1935, when Gene Sarazen, the eventual winner, holed out with a 220-yard shot on the 15th.

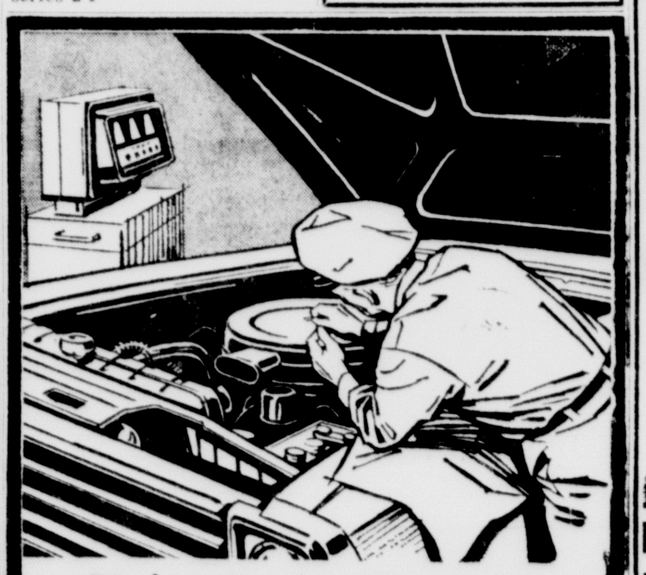

Sarazen had a double bogey seven on that hole Thursday, then declined to turn in a card. So did Claude Harmon. Dick Mayer shot a 79 but was disqualified for failing to sign his card.

That cut the field to 80 for today's second round.

Writers Pick Orioles, Bucs To Win Flags

By The Associated Press

Baltimore and Pittsburgh in the 1967 World Series.

So say 138 sports writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press' annual pre-season poll. The Orioles were chosen on 83 ballots and the Pirates drew 85 first-place votes.

On the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for a second and so on, the Orioles had 1,300 points in the American League voting and the Pirates collected 1,289 in the National League count.

Minnesota was picked to finish second in the American League followed by Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, California, New York, Kansas City, Boston and Washington.

San Francisco was figured to take second in the National League followed by Atlanta, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Houston, New York and Chicago.

Break Seen In Boycott At Aqueduct

This was indicated by George D. Widener's statement that he intended to run his Ring Twice, winner of the Widener Handicap at Hialeah, in the Exceisior Handicap Saturday.

"But he says to tell you, if his horse is in good condition, he intends to run him."

This followed an earlier declaration by James Cox Brady, chairman of the board of trustees of the New York Racing Association, that there would be racing at Aqueduct Saturday "even if only one horse is entered in a race."

The owners, represented by the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, have not entered a single horse since Tuesday in protest at the failure of the New York State Legislature to pass a bill providing for higher purse money. It had been passed by the Senate, but died in an Assembly Committee.

"We have every sympathy for the horsemen in their fight for increased purses and fully understand their resentment," Brady said. "But they have made their point. Now we expect the owners and trainers stabled in New York to cooperate with management in putting on a full card of races Saturday."

Chicago And Montreal Capture Cup Openers

By The Associated Press

Chicago and Montreal, as expected, hold 1-0 leads today following their opening games in best-of-7 Stanley Cup semifinal playoffs Thursday.

But it was a lot easier for the Black Hawks than the Canadiens.

Chicago, the National Hockey League's regular season champions, walloped Toronto 5-2 while Montreal staged a furious last-period rally and topped New York 6-4.

The Canadiens, defending Cup champions, host New York in hte second game of their series Saturday afternoon before a national television audience. Chicago and Toronto resume their series Sunday.

The Rangers held a 4-1 lead midway through the third period on a pair of goals by Rod Gilbert and one each by Boom Boom Geoffrion and Vic Hadfield.

But the Canadiens roared back. Claude Provost jammed a goal under Ed Giacomin from close in and less than a half-minute later, J. C. Tremblay made it 4-3. Then John Ferguson's shot bounced off two Rangers and past Giacomin, tying the score.

"They just kept coming," said Emile Francis. "It's funny how a game can change so fast. We had control of it until the Canadiens got rolling. They were like a brush fire then."

Jack, Arnie Trailing By 5 And 6 Shots

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, the pre-tourney favorites in the Masters Golf Tourney, aren't exactly delighted with their positions in the field — but they aren't worried.

Nicklaus, who has won the last two Masters, shot a first-round par 72 Thursday while Palmer, the only four-time champion, had a 73.

That put them five and six shots, respectively, back of first-round leader Bert Yancey.

"Six shots," mused Palmer. "Well, it's not a good position, but it certainly isn't a position from which you couldn't recover."

Nicklaus, asked if he was more concerned about being in a tie for fifth place or five strokes back, replied:

80 Turn Out For Grid Drills At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eighty candidates for Ohio State University's 1967 football varsity turned out for the opening of spring practice Thursday, loosening up under the tutelage of Coach Woody Hayes.

The drills beat the rain which Hayes had vowed "we won't let happen" and the veteran coach called the first of the allotted 20 sessions encouraging.

Full units weren't assembled immediately but Hayes said "we'll probably get them together Friday." Another workout is scheduled Saturday as practice progresses until the climactic spring intrasquad game May 6.

The Bucks, bent on improving their 4-5 record of last season, are drilling on a new practice field about a mile northwest of Ohio Stadium.

Dave Whitfield and Nick Roman, ends; Mike Kafury and Terry Ervin, tackles, Vic Stottlemyer, middle guard; Mark Stier, Dirk Worden and Tom Bartley, linebackers; Ted Provost and Jim Nein, halfbacks, and Tom Portsmouth, safety.

This group includes six 1966 regulars. Whitfield and Provost are newcomers.

Angle Tries For Second Straight Grand National

AINTREE, England (AP) — You've got to be a bit of gambler to buy a horse for $42,000 to win the Grand National Steeplechase two straight times.

Only four horses have done it since the race was launched 130 years ago.

Abd-El-Kader won in 1850-51; The Colonel won in 1869-70; Poethlyn won in 1918-19, and Reynoldstown did the trick in 1935-36.

Now Anglo, last year's winner at odds of 50-1, is trying to win again — but under new ownership.

John R. Gaines of Lexington, Ky., and James J. Houlahan of New York bought Anglo for $42,000 in a bid to win the National.

Gaines won the Hambletonian trotting classic with Kerry Way last August and decided, "I want to win the Grand National."

Fancied horses can be brought down by long shots over the tough obstacles — and even the longest long shot could win.

Westinghouse Plant Strike Ends Quickly

Local 746, International Union of electrical workers, 4,300 workers strong, stopped production with a wildcat walkout protesting a union steward's suspension.

Management and union officials said the strike was unauthorized, but the union officers said authorization would be requested.

The union changed its mind in a late afternoon meeting, voting overwhelming to go gack to work. Many members at the meeting reportedly were unhappy because the steward backed up by the strike didn't come to the meeting.

Two Pennsylvanians Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced Thursday that two Pennsylvania Marines have died as a result of the fighting in Vietnam.

They were identified as Cpl. John F. Daniels, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daniels Sr., Monroeville killed in action; and Cpl. Robert J. Sherwood Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Sherwood, Cresson, dead of wounds.

The secret is in the blend of special vinyl polymers and specially graded sands that give top'n bond 8 to 10 times the bonding strength of regular cement mixes. Use it inside or out. For easy trowel repairing or fast, brush-on resurfacing of damaged concrete sidewalks, driveways, or floors . . . for chipped steps and other masonry repairs where thin patches are needed. Featheredges. Also ideal for coating basement walls where dampness is a problem. Amazing top'n bond can be applied with a stiff brush or broom where resurfacing is needed.
top'n bond cement mix supplies the strong adhesion needed wherever a thin layer is applied to old concrete. Look for it in economical 42 and 15 lb. bags at your hardware, lumber, garden, or building supply dealer.
Easy to use and permanently strong. Just add water . . . the rest is in the bag! New from

Writers Pick Orioles, Bucs To Win Flags

By The Associated Press

Baltimore and Pittsburgh in the 1967 World Series.

So say 138 sports writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press' annual pre-season poll. The Orioles were chosen on 83 ballots and the Pirates drew 85 first-place votes.

On the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for a second and so on, the Orioles had 1,300 points in the American League voting and the Pirates collected 1,289 in the National League count.

Minnesota was picked to finish second in the American League followed by Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, California, New York, Kansas City, Boston and Washington.

San Francisco was figured to take second in the National League followed by Atlanta, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Houston, New York and Chicago.

Break Seen In Boycott At Aqueduct

This was indicated by George D. Widener's statement that he intended to run his Ring Twice, winner of the Widener Handicap at Hialeah, in the Exceisior Handicap Saturday.

"But he says to tell you, if his horse is in good condition, he intends to run him."

This followed an earlier declaration by James Cox Brady, chairman of the board of trustees of the New York Racing Association, that there would be racing at Aqueduct Saturday "even if only one horse is entered in a race."

The owners, represented by the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, have not entered a single horse since Tuesday in protest at the failure of the New York State Legislature to pass a bill providing for higher purse money. It had been passed by the Senate, but died in an Assembly Committee.

"We have every sympathy for the horsemen in their fight for increased purses and fully understand their resentment," Brady said. "But they have made their point. Now we expect the owners and trainers stabled in New York to cooperate with management in putting on a full card of races Saturday."

Chicago And Montreal Capture Cup Openers

By The Associated Press

Chicago and Montreal, as expected, hold 1-0 leads today following their opening games in best-of-7 Stanley Cup semifinal playoffs Thursday.

But it was a lot easier for the Black Hawks than the Canadiens.

Chicago, the National Hockey League's regular season champions, walloped Toronto 5-2 while Montreal staged a furious last-period rally and topped New York 6-4.

The Canadiens, defending Cup champions, host New York in hte second game of their series Saturday afternoon before a national television audience. Chicago and Toronto resume their series Sunday.

The Rangers held a 4-1 lead midway through the third period on a pair of goals by Rod Gilbert and one each by Boom Boom Geoffrion and Vic Hadfield.

But the Canadiens roared back. Claude Provost jammed a goal under Ed Giacomin from close in and less than a half-minute later, J. C. Tremblay made it 4-3. Then John Ferguson's shot bounced off two Rangers and past Giacomin, tying the score.

"They just kept coming," said Emile Francis. "It's funny how a game can change so fast. We had control of it until the Canadiens got rolling. They were like a brush fire then."

Jack, Arnie Trailing By 5 And 6 Shots

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, the pre-tourney favorites in the Masters Golf Tourney, aren't exactly delighted with their positions in the field — but they aren't worried.

Nicklaus, who has won the last two Masters, shot a first-round par 72 Thursday while Palmer, the only four-time champion, had a 73.

That put them five and six shots, respectively, back of first-round leader Bert Yancey.

"Six shots," mused Palmer. "Well, it's not a good position, but it certainly isn't a position from which you couldn't recover."

Nicklaus, asked if he was more concerned about being in a tie for fifth place or five strokes back, replied:

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eighty candidates for Ohio State University's 1967 football varsity turned out for the opening of spring practice Thursday, loosening up under the tutelage of Coach Woody Hayes.

The drills beat the rain which Hayes had vowed "we won't let happen" and the veteran coach called the first of the allotted 20 sessions encouraging.

Full units weren't assembled immediately but Hayes said "we'll probably get them together Friday." Another workout is scheduled Saturday as practice progresses until the climactic spring intrasquad game May 6.

The Bucks, bent on improving their 4-5 record of last season, are drilling on a new practice field about a mile northwest of Ohio Stadium.

This group includes six 1966 regulars Whitfield and Provost are newcomers.

Angle Tries For Second Straight Grand National

AINTREE, England (AP) — You've got to be a bit of gambler to buy a horse for $42,000 to win the Grand National Steeplechase two straight times.

Only four horses have done it since the race was launched 130 years ago.

Abd-El-Kader won in 1850-51: The Colonel won in 1869-70; Poethlyn won in 1918-19, and Reynoldstown did the trick in 1935-36.

Now Anglo, last year's winner at odds of 50-1, is trying to win again — but under new ownership.

John R. Gaines of Lexington, Ky., and James J. Houlahan of New York bought Anglo for $42,000 in a bid to win the National.

Gaines won the Hambletonian trotting classic with Kerry Way last August and decided, "I want to win the Grand National."

Fancied horses can be brought down by long shots over the tough obstacles — and even the longest long shot could win.

Freddie, second in the last two Grand Nationals, again is among the favorites.

Westinghouse Plant Strike Ends Quickly

Local 746, International Union of electrical workers, 4,300 workers strong, stopped production with a wildcat walkout protesting a union steward's suspension.

Management and union officials said the strike was unauthorized, but the union officers said authorization would be requested.

The union changed its mind in a late afternoon meeting, voting overwhelming to go gack to work. Many members at the meeting reportedly were unhappy because the steward backed up by the strike didn't come to the meeting.

Two Pennsylvanians Killed In Viet Action

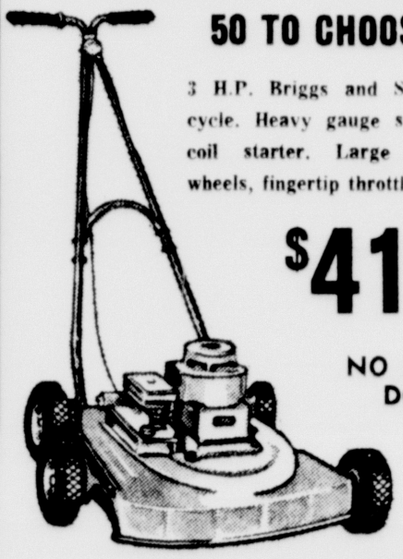

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced Thursday that two Pennsylvania Marines have died as a result of the fighting in Vietnam.

They were identified as Cpl. John F. Daniels, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daniels Sr., Monroeville killed in action; and Cpl. Robert J. Sherwood Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Sherwood, Cresson, dead of wounds.

Resurface concrete drives with
SWEEPS ON IN MINUTES

Bonds 8 times stronger than regular cement mixes—featheredges

The secret is in the blend of special vinyl polymers and specially graded sands that give top'n bond 8 to 10 times the bonding strength of regular cement mixes. Use it inside or out. For easy trowel repairing or fast, brush-on resurfacing of damaged concrete sidewalks, driveways, or floors . . . for chipped steps and other masonry repairs where thin patches are needed. Featheredges. Also ideal for coating basement walls where dampness is a problem. Amazing top'n bond can be applied with a stiff brush or broom where resurfacing is needed.
top'n bond cement mix supplies the strong adhesion needed wherever a thin layer is applied to old concrete. Look for it in economical 42 and 15 lb. bags at your hardware, lumber, garden, or building supply dealer.
Easy to use and permanently strong. Just add water . . . the rest is in the bag! New from

Heart Attack Fatal

William White, Railroad Executive, Claimed At 70

CLEVELAND (AP) — William White, 70, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Erie Lackawanna Railroad, died in the railroad's medical offices here Thursday afternoon after suffering a heart attack.

White, who had his headquarters in New York, had been in Cleveland on routine business since Monday.

He was recognized as one of the nation's most capable railroad executives when he became chairman of the Erie Lackawanna in June 1963, while also serving as chairman of Delaware & Hudson Railroad.

The Interstate Commerce Commission approved his serving in both posts, but directed that no coordination of the two railroads be made.

Surviving are the widow, Ruth; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Freeman of Chicago and Mrs. Doris Cuppia of Montclair.

County Resident Receives Honors For His Service

Staff Sgt. John R. Huston, son of Mrs. Dorothy Huston of 149 W. North Ave., East Palestine, has been awarded the Air Force "Commendation Medal" for "outstanding leadership and ability in the service of his country."

He also received the "Cross of Gallantry" for service in Vietnam, plus several other honors.

He is now stationed at Nakon Phanom in Thailand, a helicopter evacuation base. Sgt. Huston has served since 1959 in Texas, New Hampshire, England, the Philippines and Ohio.

He will leave Thailand for California April 15.

Various Terms Describe Canal Plan In Debate

CLEVELAND (AP) — A great benefit to the economy of Cleveland" and a "cruel hoax" were among terms used in describing the proposed Ohio River — Lake Erie canal in a debate Thursday night.

Kenneth M. Lloyd of Youngstown, executive secretary of Interconnecting Waterway, Inc., spoke for the canal in the debate sponsored by the Traffic Club of Cleveland.

Speaking against it was Joseph S. Gill of Columbus, general counsel of the Ohio Railroad Association.

Lloyd said Cleveland's growth was a direct result of waterway improvements such as the Erie Canal, the Soo Canal which opened up the rich iron ore country, and the St. Lawrence Seaway.

He said the Ohio River—Lake Erie canal would be "right on Cleveland's doorstep" and the city would derive great benefits from it.

Gill said the only benefits from the proposed canal would go to the Youngstown—Mahoning valley area. He described the canal as an attempt by Mahoning valley industry to improve its competitive position in U.S. markets.

Akron City Employes Pick Bargaining Unit

AKRON, Ohio (AP)— Local 360, American Federation of State County and Municipal employees, was picked Thursday as bargaining agent for 1,100 nonuniformed, nonsupervisory Akron city employes.

The union won the collective bargaining election by a 2-1 margin with 750 employes casting ballots, according to City Personnel Director Nicholas Buian.

Beaver Reports Boosts In Assessed Valuations

Midland's assessed valuation increased to $16.8 million this year, in line with general Beaver County increases, according to Chief County Assessor Michael VanDoren.

The total county assessed valuation is now $292,196,346, based on a total market value of $973,989,811.

Indicative of growth in the county, both industrial and residential, the assessed valuation has climbed upward for a number of years, including $5,417,414 in 1966; $3,407,949 in 1965; $3,748,652 in 1964, and $4,730,819 in 1963.

WHILE gaining over $4 million, the assessed valuation loss was $259,356. The loss is reflected principally in machinery tax assessments voided by the Supreme Court. Most of these reductions are not expected to show up until next year and hopefully may be offset by new industrial construction now underway.

The biggest gain this year was in residential construction, Economy Borough leading with a sizable $635,758 increase. Most of this was construction of high-cost homes near the Allegheny County lines.

Second in gain was Hopewell, which added $400,113, mostly in above-average cost homes and some commercial construction on Route 51. Baden was third with a gain of $273,723, coming largely from the new Zayre store and an apartment building.

OTHER SIZEABLE gainers were Borough Township,$146,643, Westinghouse addition and new homes; Brighton Township, $238,889; Economy Market expansion and new homes; Center Township, $155,769, new homes and light commercial; Chippewa Township, $213,303, new homes; Darlington Township, $192,273, Grief Brothers plant; North Sewickley Township, $256,168, Townsend expansion and new homes; Patterson Township, $243,043, new apartments and homes.

Biggest losers were Pulaski Township, $141,870, brick yards razed, and Monaca, $101,757, lumber yard torn down and industrial fire loss.

Total assessed valuation of major and western county municipalities is:

Bridgewater — $1,733,790, up $7,866.

Hookstown — $197,304, up $4,041.

New Galilee — $417,636, up $1,731.

Shippingport — $347,055, up $10,290.

Borough Twp. — $4,002,219, up $146,643.

Chippewa Twp. — $9,847,337, up $213,303.

Pre-School Registration Set On May 3

A pre-school registration will be held in East Liverpool elementary schools May 3 for children who will enter first grade in September.

This will give school officials an opportunity to complete personnel records on each child. It is necessary for the parent or guardian to accompany the child, school officials said.

In order to enroll in first grade, a child must be six years of age on or before Sept. 15.

Letters will be mailed out later this month to notify parents of the hours for registering at each school, Supt. Paul Blair said.

Training Advanced

EAST PALESTINE — Pvt. Daniel Wade has just completed two months' basic training at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he was promoted to drill leader. He will be home for 13 days, then return to Ft. Gordon, Ga., where he will complete specialized training.

HOW GREAT the BENEFITS

Modern medicines relieve pain so swiftly... cure so surely... that many illnesses which formerly meant long and costly convalescence, often in a hospital, are cured at home in a few days.

Never before were you able to obtain such great health benefits for so little cost as you get in today's prescribed medicines. Truly it is the smallest cost in getting well — and staying well.

QUACKERY

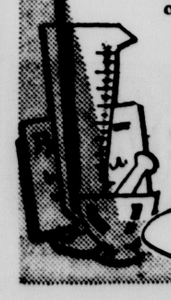

One in a series of columns on Health Frauds

According to the Food and Drug Administration the American public squanders more than $1 billion a year on falsely promoted, worthless, or dangerous "health" products. In this column and in several to follow we will describe many health frauds cited in government reports. Our purpose is to steer you away from quackery and toward good medical treatment.

Send questions to: P. O. Box 1174 Louisville 1, Ky.

SCOPE

Quackery is widespread. It shows up in best selling diet books, in "health" magazines, in advertisements promoting special foods, vitamin products, drugs, and gadgets for treatment of everything from baldness to cancer. Quackery cheats you out of your money. More important is the danger that reliance on some worthless product will cause delay in seeking proper medical advice. This can and often does have serious consequences.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN HORN

Friendly And CBS

A thunderous silence greeted the publication last week of Fred W. Friendly's book, "Due to Circumstances Beyond Our Control" (Random House), at CBS, where the author once was distinguished documentary producer ("See It Now" and "CBS Reports") and president of the news division.

A LOT of little things will get under their skin. Like Stanton's preoccupation with form at the expense of content and the waste of his top executives' time with petty problems of the new CBS buildmg on the Avenue of the Americas—how to keep out sandwich and coffee deliveries and whether the men's room should be marked M or MEN (M won out).

But the book is no expose. Friendly was privy to many a top secret, knows where many a skeleton hides but he doesn't tell all. He merely wanted to make the book "as accurate and as comprehensive as decency allows."

Th 16-year tenure of the most honored man alive in television journalism is given a once-over-lightly with justifiable emphasis and pride in the historic war against McCarthyism under the leadership of, and in the name of, Friendly's more illustrious coproducer, the late Edward R. Murrow.

Still Paley would have to be made of stronger stuff than human flesh not to wince at being quoted, in reference to "See It Now," as saying, "I don't want this constant stomach ache every time you do a controversial subjects."

That stomach ache won CBS News many, many honors and awards, in effect CBS' reputation for honest, integrity, courage and public service.

THE BOOK hots up considerably in a review of the programming scandal last year — "I Love Lucy" reruns on the air instead of former Ambassador George Kennan's testimony at the Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings on Vietnam — that led to Friendly's resignation as head of CBS News, objecting to the "business," not a news, judgment."

But the book's real value is a Friendly chapter, "Common Stock vs. the Commonweal," that is decidedly unfriendly to commercial television.

"Television's downfall is that it discovered a direct circuit between its box office and its production centers," Friendly writes. "The trouble with the entertainment shows on television today is that they aren't television. What is broadcast most of the time on most of the stations is a movie-tailored product that can be distributed electronically at low cost."

HE POINTS OUT commercial television's enormous profits — $161.6 million before taxes in 1965 for the three networks and their 15 owned and operated stations.

He insists that the public has an equity in the private use of public airwaves and regrets that "an indifferent society has given away more than it was ever entitled to. Like an executor who permitted the trust in his care to be squandered."

He again submits his plan, the Ford Foundation plan made public last summer, do derive a "public dividend" from a domestic communications satellite, for television use only, that would save commercial networks enough money in transmission fees to pay for the establishment and maintenance of a noncommercial network service.

THAT PLAN sparked a conflagration in thinking about noncommercial television, since fanned brighter by the Carnegie Commission, President Johnson and Sen. Warren G. Magnuson's bill for public television.

Friendly's book adds to the drive that may yet establish a meaningful, alternative, noncommercial service to the commercial networks' massive light entertainment.

Murder Charge Filed In Shooting Incident

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Hill, 65, has been charged with second-degree murder and shooting to wound as the result of a fracas in his Walnut Hills area apartment Wednesday night.

Police said Hill admitted shooting Edward Nuby, 49, Cincinnati, when the younger man came in and demanded that he stay away from Miss Lucy Walker, 41. Miss Walker, also in the apartment, was critically wounded. Police said Hill maintained she was hit by a stray bullet.

Appeal Launched In $780 Action

LISBON — John O. Beck of Lisbon, administrator of the estate of Wilson J. Martin, is appealing from a $790 judgment returned against the estate as the result of a traffic accident.

Counsel for Beck, a local attorney, notified the clerk of courts office Thursday it will take the case to the Seventh District Court of Appeals on questions of law.

A Columbiana County Common Pleas Court jury returned the $780 verdict Nov. 29 for the Motorist Mutual Insurance Co. at Columbus, which asked $890 for damages to a vehicle owned by Donald R. Christ of Burbank, Ohio.

Cars driven by Christ and Martin collided Feb. 6, 1962, on Route 644, 3.8 miles southeast of Kensington. The accident and Martin's death were not related.

Firemen Called As Lightning Hits

The lightning struck the residence of Dale Franklin of Jackman St. at 8:33 p. m., according to city firemen. The home is the former Grant St. Civic League building.

Just prior to the storm, firemen were called to State St. to extinguish a brush fire. While on the scene, the downpour started, helping to put out the blaze. The call was received at 8:27.

Democratic Leader Blasts Bond Proposal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' proposed Ohio Bond Commission, scheduled to go before voters in the May primary, was tagged Thursday by a Democratic leader as "the greatest Rube Goldberg proposal ever submitted to voters in the history of the United States."

The description came from former U.S. Rep. John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati. He called the bond commission proposal "an alarming power grab which would take away from the legislature the right to control state spending."

Kent Professors Due Distinguished Awards

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Distinguished teaching awards of $1,000 will be presented to two Kent State University professors for the first time Thursday night by the school's alumni association and the KSU Foundation.

An eight-member student-faculty committee chooses the recipients from a list of 14 candidates announced Thursday. They were selected by a committee of six students on the basis of nominations submitted by students, faculty and alumni.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN HORN

Friendly And CBS

A thunderous silence greeted the publication last week of Fred W. Friendly's book, "Due to Circumstances Beyond Our Control" (Random House), at CBS, where the author once was distinguished documentary producer ("See It Now" and "CBS Reports") and president of the news division.

Ask CBS people about the lively book—which reads just like the man talks, easily, ramblingly, provocatively — and you get a quick no comment.

A LOT of little things will get under their skin. Like Stanton's preoccupation with form at the expense of content and the waste of his top executives' time with petty problems of the new CBS building on the Avenue of the Americas—how to keep out sandwich and coffee deliveries and whether the men's room should be marked M or MEN (M won out).

But the book is no expose. Friendly was privy to many a top secret, knows where many a skeleton hides but he doesn't tell all. He merely wanted to make the book "as accurate and as comprehensive as decency allows."

Th 16-year tenure of the most honored man alive in television journalism is given a once-over-lightly with justifiable emphasis and pride in the historic war against McCarthyism under the leadership of, and in the name of, Friendly's more illustrious coproducer, the late Edward R. Murrow.

Still Paley would have to be made of stronger stuff than human flesh not to wince at being quoted, in reference to "See It Now," as saying, "I don't want this constant stomach ache every time you do a controversial subjects."

That stomach ache won CBS News many, many honors and awards, in effect CBS' reputation for honest, integrity, courage and public service.

THE BOOK hots up considerably in a review of the programming scandal last year — "I Love Lucy" reruns on the air instead of former Ambassador George Kennan's testimony at the Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings on Vietnam — that led to Friendly's resignation as head of CBS News, objecting to the "business," not a news, judgment."

But the book's real value is a Friendly chapter, "Common Stock vs. the Commonweal," that is decidedly unfriendly to commercial television.

"Television's downfall is that it discovered a direct circuit between its box office and its production centers," Friendly writes. "The trouble with the entertainment shows on television today is that they aren't television. What is broadcast most of the time on most of the stations is a movie-tailored product that can be distributed electronically at low cost."

HE POINTS OUT commercial television's enormous profits — $161.6 million before taxes in 1965 for the three networks and their 15 owned and operated stations.

He insists that the public has an equity in the private use of public airwaves and regrets that "an indifferent society has given away more than it was ever entitled to. Like an executor who permitted the trust in his care to be squandered."

What to do about it?

He again submits his plan, the Ford Foundation plan made public last summer, do derive a "public dividend" from a domestic communications satellite, for television use only, that would save commercial networks enough money in transmission fees to pay for the establishment and maintenance of a noncommercial network service.

THAT PLAN sparked a conflagration in thinking about noncommercial television, since fanned brighter by the Carnegie Commission, President Johnson and Sen. Warren G. Magnuson's bill for public television.

Friendly's book adds to the drive that may yet establish a meaningful, alternative, noncommercial service to the commercial networks' massive light entertainment.

Murder Charge Filed In Shooting Incident

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Hill, 65, has been charged with second-degree murder and shooting to wound as the result of a fracas in his Walnut Hills area apartment Wednesday night.

Police said Hill admitted shooting Edward Nuby, 49, Cincinnati, when the younger man came in and demanded that he stay away from Miss Lucy Walker, 41. Miss Walker, also in the apartment, was critically wounded. Police said Hill maintained she was hit by a stray bullet.

School Is Evacuated After Bomb Threat

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP) — Bucyrus High School was evacuated Thursday after school officials received another bomb threat by telephone. Firemen searched the building but found no explosives.

This was the third bomb threat at the school since last Friday. Earlier this week a tavern frequented by a motorcycle gang was bombed here.

Appeal Launched In $780 Action

LISBON — John O. Beck of Lisbon, administrator of the estate of Wilson J. Martin, is appealing from a $790 judgment returned against the estate as the result of a traffic accident.

Counsel for Beck, a local attorney, notified the clerk of courts office Thursday it will take the case to the Seventh District Court of Appeals on questions of law.

A Columbiana County Common Pleas Court jury returned the $780 verdict Nov. 29 for the Motorist Mutual Insurance Co. at Columbus, which asked $890 for damages to a vehicle owned by Donald R. Christ of Burbank, Ohio.

Cars driven by Christ and Martin collided Feb. 6, 1962, on Route 644, 3.8 miles southeast of Kensington. The accident and Martin's death were not related.

Firemen Called As Lightning Hits

A Northside home was damaged when struck by lightning at the outset of the storm which hit the area Thursday night.

The lightning struck the residence of Dale Franklin of Jackman St. at 8:33 p. m., according to city firemen. The home is the former Grant St. Civic League building.

Just prior to the storm, firemen were called to State St. to extinguish a brush fire. While on the scene, the downpour started, helping to put out the blaze. The call was received at 8:27.

Democratic Leader Blasts Bond Proposal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' proposed Ohio Bond Commission, scheduled to go before voters in the May primary, was tagged Thursday by a Democratic leader as "the greatest Rube Goldberg proposal ever submitted to voters in the history of the United States."

The description came from former U.S. Rep. John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati. He called the bond commission proposal "an alarming power grab which would take away from the legislature the right to control state spending."

Kent Professors Due Distinguished Awards

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Distinguished teaching awards of $1,000 will be presented to two Kent State University professors for the first time Thursday night by the school's alumni association and the KSU Foundation.

An eight-member student-faculty committee chooses the recipients from a list of 14 candidates announced Thursday. They were selected by a committee of six students on the basis of nominations submitted by students, faculty and alumni.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have just received a chain letter asking me to send $1 each to nine friends. My instructions said I was to make nine copies and send them off airmail special delivery within 96 hours. Do you realize that this would cost me $9 plus $3.42 in stamps? And it would take several hours to get those nine copies out because I don't own a typewriter?

The letter said if I complied with the request I would save a life and end up rich. It said if I failed to follow the instructions someone dear to me would meet a terrible fate and I would die broke.

I think it's awful to scare people like that. Please tell folks that chain letters interfere with the peace of mind of the average person and nobody has the right to do this.—SHOOK UP.

Dear Shook: I will say even more. If they involve payment of money, chain letters are against the law.

He's The Nut

Dear Ann: My husband and I have known Bill and Rita for a long time. We were at their home last Saturday, and after several hours of talking and drinking, my husband managed to get Rita alone in the kitchen. I was left in the living room with Bill.

I don't drink and my husband says this is my trouble. He claims I can't get into the swing of things because I'm not relaxed. I've always had a hunch that most people drink because it gives them an excuse to do and say things they wouldn't do and say if they were sober.

My husband finally came out of the kitchen and announced that he and Rita were going out to get some fresh air and he hoped Bill and I had a good time. I told him nothing doing. We had an argument and my husband and Rita left.

My husband came right out and said he sees nothing wrong in switching partners if everyone agrees. According to him, 20 years is a long time to be married to one woman and he is getting curious. He also said he deserves some credit for being open and above board.

He is a very persuasive arguer and sometimes I wonder if I'm crazy. Please advise.—SPOILSPORT.

Dear S.: There's nothing wrong with you, Doll. Your husband is the nut in the family. Also, I think you need some new friends.

Sure, people get curious — and sometimes it doesn't take them 20 years. But curiosity is no excuse for behaving like animals.

Easy Touch

Dear Ann: Our 19-year-old son has a habit of bringing friends to spend the night. The last friend stayed three months.

He ate every meal here, I did his laundry and nursed him through the flu. I got tired of giving him maid service without so much as a thank you or a dime in return, so I told him to leave.

Now when the boy sees me in town he doesn't even say hello.

My husband claims the house belongs to our son as well as to us and that I should make his guests feel welcome. He makes it sound so logical I sometimes think he is right. Is he? — HIGH GROCERY BILL.

Dear High: No. A freeloader who hangs around for three months hardly can be regarded as a guest.

Your son should be allowed to offer hospitality to his friends, but he has no right to expect his mother to be a cook, maid, laundress and nurse to the strays he finds around town.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Stop, look and read!

So many times little children (especially the very young ones) cannot read, or do not heed, cautions on containers.

Many times, too, mothers and fathers do not read directions and cautions on bottles and containers. Some bottles do not even have the words "poison," "caustic," "toxic," etc., written on them even though their contents can kill or cripple a person.

So here is what I figured out for you mothers and fathers who have little children. It is also a good safety precaution for yourselves.

Take the little brush out of that bottle of dark red fingernail polish and completely paint every bottle cap and lid on such things as bleaches, ammonia, turnpentine, kerosene, alcohol, disinfectants, insect sprays, spot removers, cleaners, etc. Include everything that would harm a child if swallowed.

Also paint a big "X" with that dark red fingernail polish on both sides of all these bottles and containers.

Teach your child now that anything he sees with a red mark — either an "X" or a red cap or lid on it — means "no! no! danger or poison."

Now is the time to teach your child what poison means and what your marks with the color red mean. Later, when he learns to talk and understand, you can explain it to him further.

He will use and reuse this red signal all his life. Even before he starts to school, he will learn that a red light means "stop," or "danger." (Later, when he drives a car and sees the red stop lights of a car in front of him go on, he will know it means stop, danger, etc.)

And let me give you another little hint for all young mothers who have small babies. Now is the time to take that bottle of fingernail polish and paint the hot water faucet in your bath tub, in your basin, and in your kitchen sink!

With your teaching, the little child will quickly learn that a red water faucet means danger. Don't forget, a little child sometimes does not know his left hand from his right hand, or a left faucet from a right one for many months. At least the poor little tyke will know that hot water is coming out instead of that cold water he expects when he goes to wash his hands. This will prevent many small scalded hands.

Do not worry about putting fingernail polish on your metal water faucets. It won't hurt them one bit. As soon as the child is old enough to clearly remember which is hot water and dangerous, all you have to do is take some fingernail polish remover and remove the red polish with some facial tissue. It comes off clean as a whistle, no matter how long it's been on the faucets.

If you think you are wasting your time by painting the tops of all those containers red, this is not so. Because the next time you buy a new bottle of bleach, ammonia, disinfectant, etc., all you have to do is remove that pretty, red "cuation" top from the empty one and screw it on the new bottle.

Let's save a life and prevent injury any way we can, because this cannot be bought for any amount of money.

Don't YOU be responsible for anyone's accident.

I love you all.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use my wire potato masher to mix tuna fish salad and don't even have to cut up my hard-boiled eggs.

The potato masher cuts the eggs beautifully and mixes them with the dressing and fish at the same time.

RUGY.

DEAR HELOISE: I glue rubber jar rings on the bottom of all my potted plants and find the pots don't leave ugly marks on my furniture and window sills.

L. FREDERICKSON.

DEAR HELOISE: I wash my large metal trash can the easy way by inverting it over my yard sprinkler. I turn on the sprinkler full force for a few minutes and let it do all the work for me.

MRS. FRED EDLER.

How about that?

HELOISE.

2-Millionth Car Of Year Is Built

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. auto industry built its two millionth car of the year Thursday — 22 days later than its 1966 counterpart.

India Offers Cheap Houseboat Vacation

NEW DELHI (AP) — Tourists wanting a cheap vacation on a houseboat should plan on going to the Kashmir Valley in northern India. Rental rates for economy class houseboats have been especially reduced during this International Tourist Year to 10 rupees ($1.30) a day.

The Indian government, in an effort to attract more visitors and more foreign exchange, has even abolished the tourist visa fee for all of 1967.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our son and brother, Bernard D. Brown, who passed away 18 years ago today, April 7. The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave, Where sleeps our son and brother, We loved but could not save, We often sit and think of you, And speak of how you died; To think you could not say goodby Before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best, May God grant you eternal rest.
George M. And Samuel W. Brown.

IN memory of Bernard D. Brown who died April 7th, 1949.
The stars are dimly shining Upon one lonely grave, Where sleeps without awakening One we loved, But could not save.
Sadly missed by his parents Mr. and Mrs. George M. Brown and son Samuel Brown.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have just received a chain letter asking me to send $1 each to nine friends. My instructions said I was to make nine copies and send them off airmail special delivery within 96 hours. Do you realize that this would cost me $9 plus $3.42 in stamps? And it would take several hours to get those nine copies out because I don't own a typewriter?

The letter said if I complied with the request I would save a life and end up rich. It said if I failed to follow the instructions someone dear to me would meet a terrible fate and I would die broke.

I think it's awful to scare people like that. Please tell folks that chain letters interfere with the peace of mind of the average person and nobody has the right to do this.—SHOOK UP.

Dear Shook: I will say even more. If they involve payment of money, chain letters are against the law.

He's The Nut

Dear Ann: My husband and I have known Bill and Rita for a long time. We were at their home last Saturday, and after several hours of talking and drinking, my husband managed to get Rita alone in the kitchen. I was left in the living room with Bill.

I don't drink and my husband says this is my trouble. He claims I can't get into the swing of things because I'm not relaxed. I've always had a hunch that most people drink because it gives them an excuse to do and say things they wouldn't do and say if they were sober.

My husband finally came out of the kitchen and announced that he and Rita were going out to get some fresh air and he hoped Bill and I had a good time. I told him nothing doing. We had an argument and my husband and Rita left.

My husband came right out and said he sees nothing wrong in switching partners if everyone agrees. According to him, 20 years is a long time to be married to one woman and he is getting curious. He also said he deserves some credit for being open and above board.

He is a very persuasive arguer and sometimes I wonder if I'm crazy. Please advise.—SPOILSPORT.

Dear S.: There's nothing wrong with you, Doll. Your husband is the nut in the family. Also, I think you need some new friends.

Sure, people get curious — and sometimes it doesn't take them 20 years. But curiosity is no excuse for behaving like animals.

Easy Touch

Dear Ann: Our 19-year-old son has a habit of bringing friends to spend the night. The last friend stayed three months.

He ate every meal here, I did his laundry and nursed him through the flu. I got tired of giving him maid service without so much as a thank you or a dime in return, so I told him to leave.

Now when the boy sees me in town he doesn't even say hello.

My husband claims the house belongs to our son as well as to us and that I should make his guests feel welcome. He makes it sound so logical I sometimes think he is right. Is he? — HIGH GROCERY BILL.

Dear High: No. A freeloader who hangs around for three months hardly can be regarded as a guest.

Your son should be allowed to offer hospitality to his friends, but he has no right to expect his mother to be a cook, maid, laundress and nurse to the strays he finds around town.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Stop, look and read!

Or prevent a serious injury to a little child or a visitor in your home?

So many times little children (especially the very young ones) cannot read, or do not heed, cautions on containers.

Many times, too, mothers and fathers do not read directions and cautions on bottles and containers. Some bottles do not even have the words "poison," "caustic," "toxic," etc., written on them even though their contents can kill or cripple a person.

So here is what I figured out for you mothers and fathers who have little children. It is also a good safety precaution for yourselves.

Take the little brush out of that bottle of dark red fingernail polish and completely paint every bottle cap and lid on such things as bleaches, ammonia, turnpentine, kerosene, alcohol, disinfectants, insect sprays, spot removers, cleaners, etc. Include everything that would harm a child if swallowed.

Also paint a big "X" with that dark red fingernail polish on both sides of all these bottles and containers.

Teach your child now that anything he sees with a red mark — either an "X" or a red cap or lid on it — means "no! no! danger or poison."

Now is the time to teach your child what poison means and what your marks with the color red mean. Later, when he learns to talk and understand, you can explain it to him further.

He will use and reuse this red signal all his life. Even before he starts to school, he will learn that a red light means "stop," or "danger." (Later, when he drives a car and sees the red stop lights of a car in front of him go on, he will know it means stop, danger, etc.)

And let me give you another little hint for all young mothers who have small babies. Now is the time to take that bottle of fingernail polish and paint the hot water faucet in your bath tub, in your basin, and in your kitchen sink!

With your teaching, the little child will quickly learn that a red water faucet means danger. Don't forget, a little child sometimes does not know his left hand from his right hand, or a left faucet from a right one for many months. At least the poor little tyke will know that hot water is coming out instead of that cold water he expects when he goes to wash his hands. This will prevent many small scalded hands.

Do not worry about putting fingernail polish on your metal water faucets. It won't hurt them one bit. As soon as the child is old enough to clearly remember which is hot water and dangerous, all you have to do is take some fingernail polish remover and remove the red polish with some facial tissue. It comes off clean as a whistle, no matter how long it's been on the faucets.

If you think you are wasting your time by painting the tops of all those containers red, this is not so. Because the next time you buy a new bottle of bleach, ammonia, disinfectant, etc., all you have to do is remove that pretty, red "cuation" top from the empty one and screw it on the new bottle.

Let's save a life and prevent injury any way we can, because this cannot be bought for any amount of money.

Don't YOU be responsible for anyone's accident.

I love you all.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use my wire potato masher to mix tuna fish salad and don't even have to cut up my hard-boiled eggs.

The potato masher cuts the eggs beautifully and mixes them with the dressing and fish at the same time.

RUGY.

DEAR HELOISE: I glue rubber jar rings on the bottom of all my potted plants and find the pots don't leave ugly marks on my furniture and window sills.

L. FREDERICKSON.

DEAR HELOISE: I wash my large metal trash can the easy way by inverting it over my yard sprinkler. I turn on the sprinkler full force for a few minutes and let it do all the work for me.

MRS. FRED EDLER

How about that?

HELOISE.

2-Millionth Car Of Year Is Built

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. auto industry built its two millionth car of the year Thursday — 22 days later than its 1966 counterpart.

India Offers Cheap Houseboat Vacation

NEW DELHI (AP) — Tourists wanting a cheap vacation on a houseboat should plan on going to the Kashmir Valley in northern India. Rental rates for economy class houseboats have been especially reduced during this International Tourist Year to 10 rupees ($1.30) a day.

The Indian government, in an effort to attract more visitors and more foreign exchange, has even abolished the tourist visa fee for all of 1967.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our son and brother, Bernard D. Brown, who passed away 18 years ago today, April 7. The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave. Where sleeps our son and brother, We loved but could not save. We often sit and think of you, And speak of how you died. To think you could not say goodby Before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best, May God grant you eternal rest.
George M. And Samuel W. Brown.

IN memory of Bernard D. Brown who died April 7th, 1949.
The stars are dimly shining Upon one lonely grave. Where sleeps without awakening One we loved, But could not save.
Sadly missed by his parents Mr. and Mrs. George M. Brown and son Samuel Brown.

30 ACRES of land and a seven room and bath home one mile from Hoppels Corners for just $5500.00. Good amount of the land is tillable and there is a usable barn. The home needs a lot of repair but it is liveable and has an inside bath.

Just past Taylors Bend on Route 30, Chester, there's a one story four room and bath home with full basement and an unfinished upstairs with a detached double garage and 5 acres of land for $6000.00. Some of the land is level and usable for gardening.

Nice two story two bedroom home at 923 KENT STREET on a level lot with a full basement and a new gas furnace for just $6400.00. Can be bought for small down payment and $50.00 per month. Home also has new roof.

Junior Editors Quiz on GYROSCOPE

QUESTION: How can a gyroscope be used as a compass?

ANSWER: A gyroscope is a metal wheel which can be spun very rapidly. The wheel is mounted with its axle set into a ring, which in turn is set into other rings (A). When the wheel is spinning, it obeys a famous law discovered by Sir Isaac Newton: that a body in space has "inertia," or tends to keep the same position or direction, unless outside force is applied to it. In (B) you see the spinning wheel of the gyroscope keeping its first position even when the stand is turned over. Enough rings may be added so that no matter how you turn the stand, the wheel will keep its first position. This makes it extremely useful as a compass.

In (C) you see the axles of gyroscopes pointing North even though the ships containing them are on different courses. A gyro on a ship, kept spinning by electric power, will not be affected by the ship's motion (D) or attracted by the metal in the ship as an ordinary compass is. The direction it keeps can be carried up to a "repeater" on the bridge (E).

Camps Aid War On Fat

The American way of life makes it easy to be fat, even for youngsters. The most startling change in the weight picture is in adolescent obesity, with 10 million overweights under 19. There are now special summer camps to help pre-teens and teens fight the junior battle of the bulge. Overweight is always a dual problem, too much food of the wrong kind and too little exercise. At home, the fatties are reluctant to join in activities. "Nobody wants me on their side," is a common complaint. At camp it is different, for they are all in the same fix. To find out about these reducing camps your dietitian called The American Camping Association.

Ida Jean Kain

SEASCAPE on Cape Cod is a widely known camp for overweight girls ages 12 to 18. "For fun and slimming it's terrific," former heavyweights claim. Camp Lancer for overweight boys is being launched under the same direction, Dr. John Spargo and dietitian Penny Peckos. The two camps are separate.

Camp Macabee in Leesburg, Va., is for boys ages 10 to 16. This was the first medically-supervised camp for obese boys. Under professional guidance, the boys are eased into exercise activities. Youngsters who could scarcely get their feet off the ground at the start, can walk six miles and swim a full mile at the end of four weeks.

Camp Stanley, located at Hurleyville, N. Y., in the Catskill Mountains, is for overweight girls from ages 8 to 18. Here the girls have a carefully planned program of sports and streamlining exercises, along with a re-education of eating habits. Good grooming is a special part of the course to help girls develop poise and confidence.

CLOVER LODGE in Hunter, N. Y., offers a specialized program for overweight girls from 8 to 20. Campers are provided a wide variety of activities, both athletic and cultural. Delicious low calorie fare is planned by a dietitian. It all makes for a happy, healthy, slim-down summer.

Of special interest are the camps for diabetic children. Parents interested in such camps should call their local Diabetic Association, or ask their physician.

These camps, sponsored by the American Diabetic Association, are located from coast to coast. One such place is Camp Med-Chi at Randallstown, Md. This is for both diabetic boys and girls. The ages are 6 to 14. At camp, diabetic youngsters learn how to lead active, happy, normal lives.

For specific information regarding the special reducing camps for pre-teens and teens, call the American Camping Association.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 7 More Lives

By The Associated Press

The dead ranged in age from 2 to 90 in a spate of traffic fatalities around Ohio since Thursday afternoon and included pedestrian, bicyclist, motorcyclist and auto driver victims.

Killed were:

Calvin E. Harper, 24, Columbus.

Mark Sergent, 9, Seville, Medina County.

Walter McKean, 90, Frazeysburg, Muskingum County.

Harold Fox, 21, Harpster, Wyandot County.

David Simms, 2, Beavercreek Twp., Greene County.

Scott R. Allen, 28, Homewood, Ill.

Gerald Root, 57, of near Warren.

Harper was killed in an unusual sequence on Columbus' East Fifth Avenue. His auto hit a bicycle on which two boys were traveling early Friday. He stopped, got out and bent over John D. Dauer, 16, who had been knocked off the bike—then another auto struck both Harper and Dauer.

The youth was injured critically. The second motorist did not stop and police still were seeking the hit-skip vehicle.

McKean's auto overturned into a ditch along Ohio 60 north of Zanesville Thursday night. Four others in the car were injured.

Fox's motorcycle and an auto collided Thursday on Ohio 182 in Crawford County.

Allen was believed on his way to Lebanon Thursday for the harness race meeting opening this weekend when he became involved in a head-on collision with another car on Ohio 127 north of Seven Mile in Butler County. The other driver, Kenneth Garland, 30, of near Hamilton, was injured seriously.

Root's car missed a curve on a rural road near Newton Falls, Trumbull County, and hit a tree Thursday night.

Man To Face Charge In Assault On Wife

CINCINNATI (AP)— Terry Simms was in fair condition at General Hospital today with two bullet wounds. He also faced a charge of assault to kill his wife during a domestic quarrel.

Police in suburban Woodlawn said Simms' stepson, 16, shot him Thursday night with a pistol when he attacked his wife with a butcher knife. Police said no charge would be filed against the boy.

Second GI Given Life In Viet Slayings

SAIGON (AP) — A second American soldier was sentenced to life imprisonment today for the murder of four Vietnamese civilians last Jan. 28.

A U.S. Army general court-martial also sentenced Spec. 4 Chambers H. Gray, 28, of Cleveland, Ohio, to forfeiture of all pay and allowances and a dishonorable discharge.

He was convicted of unpremeditated murder of an elderly couple and two young boys on a dirt road near the Long Binh compound where the trial was held.

Another court-martial Thursday convicted Spec. 4 Robert E. Tyson, 20, of Vienna, Va., on four charges of premeditated murder for the same slayings. He received the same sentence.

Gray also was convicted on two counts of assault with a dangerous weapon. These were in connection with an attack on the Vietnamese owner of a car wash and the shooting of a girl, 16.

Gray's wife, Helga, flown by the Army to Vietnam to testify for her husband, left the stand in tears after telling the court Gray got so drunk in the past he did not know after he sobered up what he had done.

Mrs. Gray lives in Warrensville Heights, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland.

Defense attorneys for Gray and Tyson maintained the two soldiers had been on an all-night drinking spree before the shootings.

Gray testified that in addition to being drunk and tired the day of the shootings, he was worried about several things, including the death in battle of a buddy.

He said he and Tyson were driving a truck down the road about half a mile off Main Route One when "all of a sudden these figures came out of the bushes. I got kinda scared—I fired. We kept moving."

Both sentences will be reviewed.

The ups and downs of our waterfowl very often depend on the ups and downs of the water levels in their wintering grounds. Normal fluctuation is necessary to promote food plant growth.

Infant Boy Drowns

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)— Michael D. Saylers, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Saylers of near Springfield, drowned Thursday when he fell into a garbage can partially filled with water.

Bill Would Give Tax Aid For Development Efforts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— An administration bill designed to give a tax advantage to local industrial development efforts has been introduced in the Ohio Senate.

Sen. Walter Powell R-4 Butler offered the measure Thursday before routine floor sessions wrapped up the legislature's 13th week. The two chambers resume work at 8 p.m. Monday.

Development Director Fred P. Neuenschwander said the bill would write into law specific authority for municipalities and counties to issue self-retiring revenue bonds for industrial purposes.

Neuenschwander explained that such bonds would be exempt from federal taxes in contrast to those issued by community improvement corporations — the department's original approach to local financing.

Present law permits municipalities to issue revenue bonds but does not provide specifically that revenues may be used for industrial purposes, Neuenschwander explained.

He added that courts have upheld cases in which bonds were issued for that purpose but added: "Without this bill, you'd have to go to court on every project."

Under the bill, bonds issued by municipal corporations and counties would have to be for projects certified by local community improvement corporations as being part of their development plan and guaranteed to produce jobs, the director said.

All bonds would have to be paid off with fees, rents, sale or other revenue derived from the project. In no case could tax revenue be used to retire bonds.

The measure also changes the law to permit the Ohio Development Financing Commission to issue bonds for up to 100 per cent of the cost of improvement projects. Presently, the commission is limited to 50 per cent of the cost. Community improvement corporations up to now have been counted on to issue bonds to provide the other 50 per cent.

One would waive competitive bidding on contracts for construction, leasing, sale or transfer of projects.

The other would permit an officer of an issuing authority to have an interest, direct or indirect, "in a corporation or association which is involved in the financing transaction or the supplying of materials or equipment for construction of a project."

The director said he believes competitive bidding unnecessary because the company or agency that contracted to lease or buy a new or expanded facility "will be enough of a watchdog because the price he plans to pay will be based on the cost of the project."

Neuenschwander said the provision to circumvent so-called conflict of interest resulted "from the problem we face in small towns, many of which are one-industry towns."

He cited as an example Rittman, Wayne County, which has as its only principal industry the Packaging Corp. of America. "Several members of the City Council are employes of the corporation. What would happen if Packaging Corp. of America wanted to expand?" he asked.

The bill also amends sections of the code relative to port authorities, allowing them to mortgage facilities to secure revenue bonds and removing the 6 per cent ceiling on interest on port authority bonds.

We're able to give you a "volume price" because we've got what you might call "volume electricity." It's produced by our system . . . the country's largest interconnected power system. Stretches over seven states, includes six separate, investor-owned companies.

CLOVER LODGE in Hunter, N. Y., offers a specialized program for overweight girls from 8 to 20. Campers are provided a wide variety of activities, both athletic and cultural. Delicious low calorie fare is planned by a dietitian. It all makes for a happy, healthy, slim-down summer.

Of special interest are the camps for diabetic children. Parents interested in such camps should call their local Diabetic Association, or ask their physician.

These camps, sponsored by the American Diabetic Association, are located from coast to coast. One such place is Camp Med-Chi at Randallstown, Md. This is for both diabetic boys and girls. The ages are 6 to 14. At camp, diabetic youngsters learn how to lead active, happy, normal lives.

For specific information regarding the special reducing camps for pre-teens and teens, call the American Camping Association.

Bill Would Give Tax Aid For Development Efforts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— An administration bill designed to give a tax advantage to local industrial development efforts has been introduced in the Ohio Senate.

Sen. Walter Powell R-4 Butler offered the measure Thursday before routine floor sessions wrapped up the legislature's 13th week. The two chambers resume work at 8 p.m. Monday.

Development Director Fred P. Neuenschwander said the bill would write into law specific authority for municipalities and counties to issue self-retiring revenue bonds for industrial purposes.

Neuenschwander explained that such bonds would be exempt from federal taxes in contrast to those issued by community improvement corporations — the department's original approach to local financing.

Present law permits municipalities to issue revenue bonds but does not provide specifically that revenues may be used for industrial purposes, Neuenschwander explained.

He added that courts have upheld cases in which bonds were issued for that purpose but added: "Without this bill, you'd have to go to court on every project."

Under the bill, bonds issued by municipal corporations and counties would have to be for projects certified by local community improvement corporations as being part of their development plan and guaranteed to produce jobs, the director said.

All bonds would have to be paid off with fees, rents, sale or other revenue derived from the project. In no case could tax revenue be used to retire bonds.

The measure also changes the law to permit the Ohio Development Financing Commission to issue bonds for up to 100 per cent of the cost of improvement projects. Presently, the commission is limited to 50 per cent of the cost. Community improvement corporations up to now have been counted on to issue bonds to provide the other 50 per cent.

Neuenschwander was asked about two provisions in the bill that figure to stir controversy.

One would waive competitive bidding on contracts for construction, leasing, sale or transfer of projects.

The other would permit an officer of an issuing authority to have an interest, direct or indirect, "in a corporation or association which is involved in the financing transaction or the supplying of materials or equipment for construction of a project."

The director said he believes competitive bidding unnecessary because the company or agency that contracted to lease or buy a new or expanded facility "will be enough of a watchdog because the price he plans to pay will be based on the cost of the project."

Neuenschwander said the provision to circumvent so-called conflict of interest resulted "from the problem we face in small towns, many of which are one-industry towns."

He cited as an example Rittman, Wayne County, which has as its only principal industry the Packaging Corp. of America. "Several members of the City Council are employes of the corporation. What would happen if Packaging Corp. of America wanted to expand?" he asked.

The bill also amends sections of the code relative to port authorities, allowing them to mortgage facilities to secure revenue bonds and removing the 6 per cent ceiling on interest on port authority bonds.

The ceilings should be removed "in view of the recent experience with interest rates which would prevent financing within such a limitation. . ." it was asserted.

More than one-third of Ohio is provided with public and private drainage facilities valued at more than $200 million.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 7 More Lives

By The Associated Press

The dead ranged in age from 2 to 90 in a spate of traffic fatalities around Ohio since Thursday afternoon and included pedestrian, bicyclist, motorcyclist and auto driver victims.

Killed were:

Calvin E. Harper, 24, Columbus.

Mark Sergent, 9, Seville, Medina County.

Walter McKean, 90, Frazeysburg, Muskingum County.

Harold Fox, 21, Harpster, Wyandot County.

David Simms, 2, Beavercreek Twp., Greene County.

Scott R. Allen, 28, Homewood, Ill.

Gerald Root, 57, of near Warren.

Harper was killed in an unusual sequence on Columbus' East Fifth Avenue. His auto hit a bicycle on which two boys were traveling early Friday. He stopped, got out and bent over John D. Dauer, 16, who had been knocked off the bike—then another auto struck both Harper and Dauer.

The youth was injured critically. The second motorist did not stop and police still were seeking the hit-skip vehicle.

The Sergent boy was bicycling with two friends on a county road west of Wadsworth Thursday when he veered into the path of a car.

McKean's auto overturned into a ditch along Ohio 60 north of Zanesville Thursday night. Four others in the car were injured.

Fox's motorcycle and an auto collided Thursday on Ohio 182 in Crawford County.

Allen was believed on his way to Lebanon Thursday for the harness race meeting opening this weekend when he became involved in a head-on collision with another car on Ohio 127 north of Seven Mile in Butler County. The other driver, Kenneth Garland, 30, of near Hamilton, was injured seriously.

Root's car missed a curve on a rural road near Newton Falls, Trumbull County, and hit a tree Thursday night.

Man To Face Charge In Assault On Wife

CINCINNATI (AP)— Terry Simms was in fair condition at General Hospital today with two bullet wounds. He also faced a charge of assault to kill his wife during a domestic quarrel.

Police in suburban Woodlawn said Simms' stepson, 16, shot him Thursday night with a pistol when he attacked his wife with a butcher knife. Police said no charge would be filed against the boy.

Second GI Given Life In Viet Slayings

SAIGON (AP) — A second American soldier was sentenced to life imprisonment today for the murder of four Vietnamese civilians last Jan. 28.

A U.S. Army general court-martial also sentenced Spec. 4 Chambers H. Gray, 28, of Cleveland, Ohio, to forfeiture of all pay and allowances and a dishonorable discharge.

He was convicted of unpremeditated murder of an elderly couple and two young boys on a dirt road near the Long Binh compound where the trial was held.

Another court-martial Thursday convicted Spec. 4 Robert E. Tyson, 20, of Vienna, Va., on four charges of premeditated murder for the same slayings. He received the same sentence.

Gray also was convicted on two counts of assault with a dangerous weapon. These were in connection with an attack on the Vietnamese owner of a car wash and the shooting of a girl, 16.

Gray's wife, Helga, flown by the Army to Vietnam to testify for her husband, left the stand in tears after telling the court Gray got so drunk in the past he did not know after he sobered up what he had done.

Mrs. Gray lives in Warrensville Heights, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland.

Defense attorneys for Gray and Tyson maintained the two soldiers had been on an all-night drinking spree before the shootings.

Gray testified that in addition to being drunk and tired the day of the shootings, he was worried about several things, including the death in battle of a buddy.

He said he and Tyson were driving a truck down the road about half a mile off Main Route One when "all of a sudden these figures came out of the bushes. I got kinda scared—I fired. We kept moving."

Both sentences will be reviewed.

Infant Boy Drowns

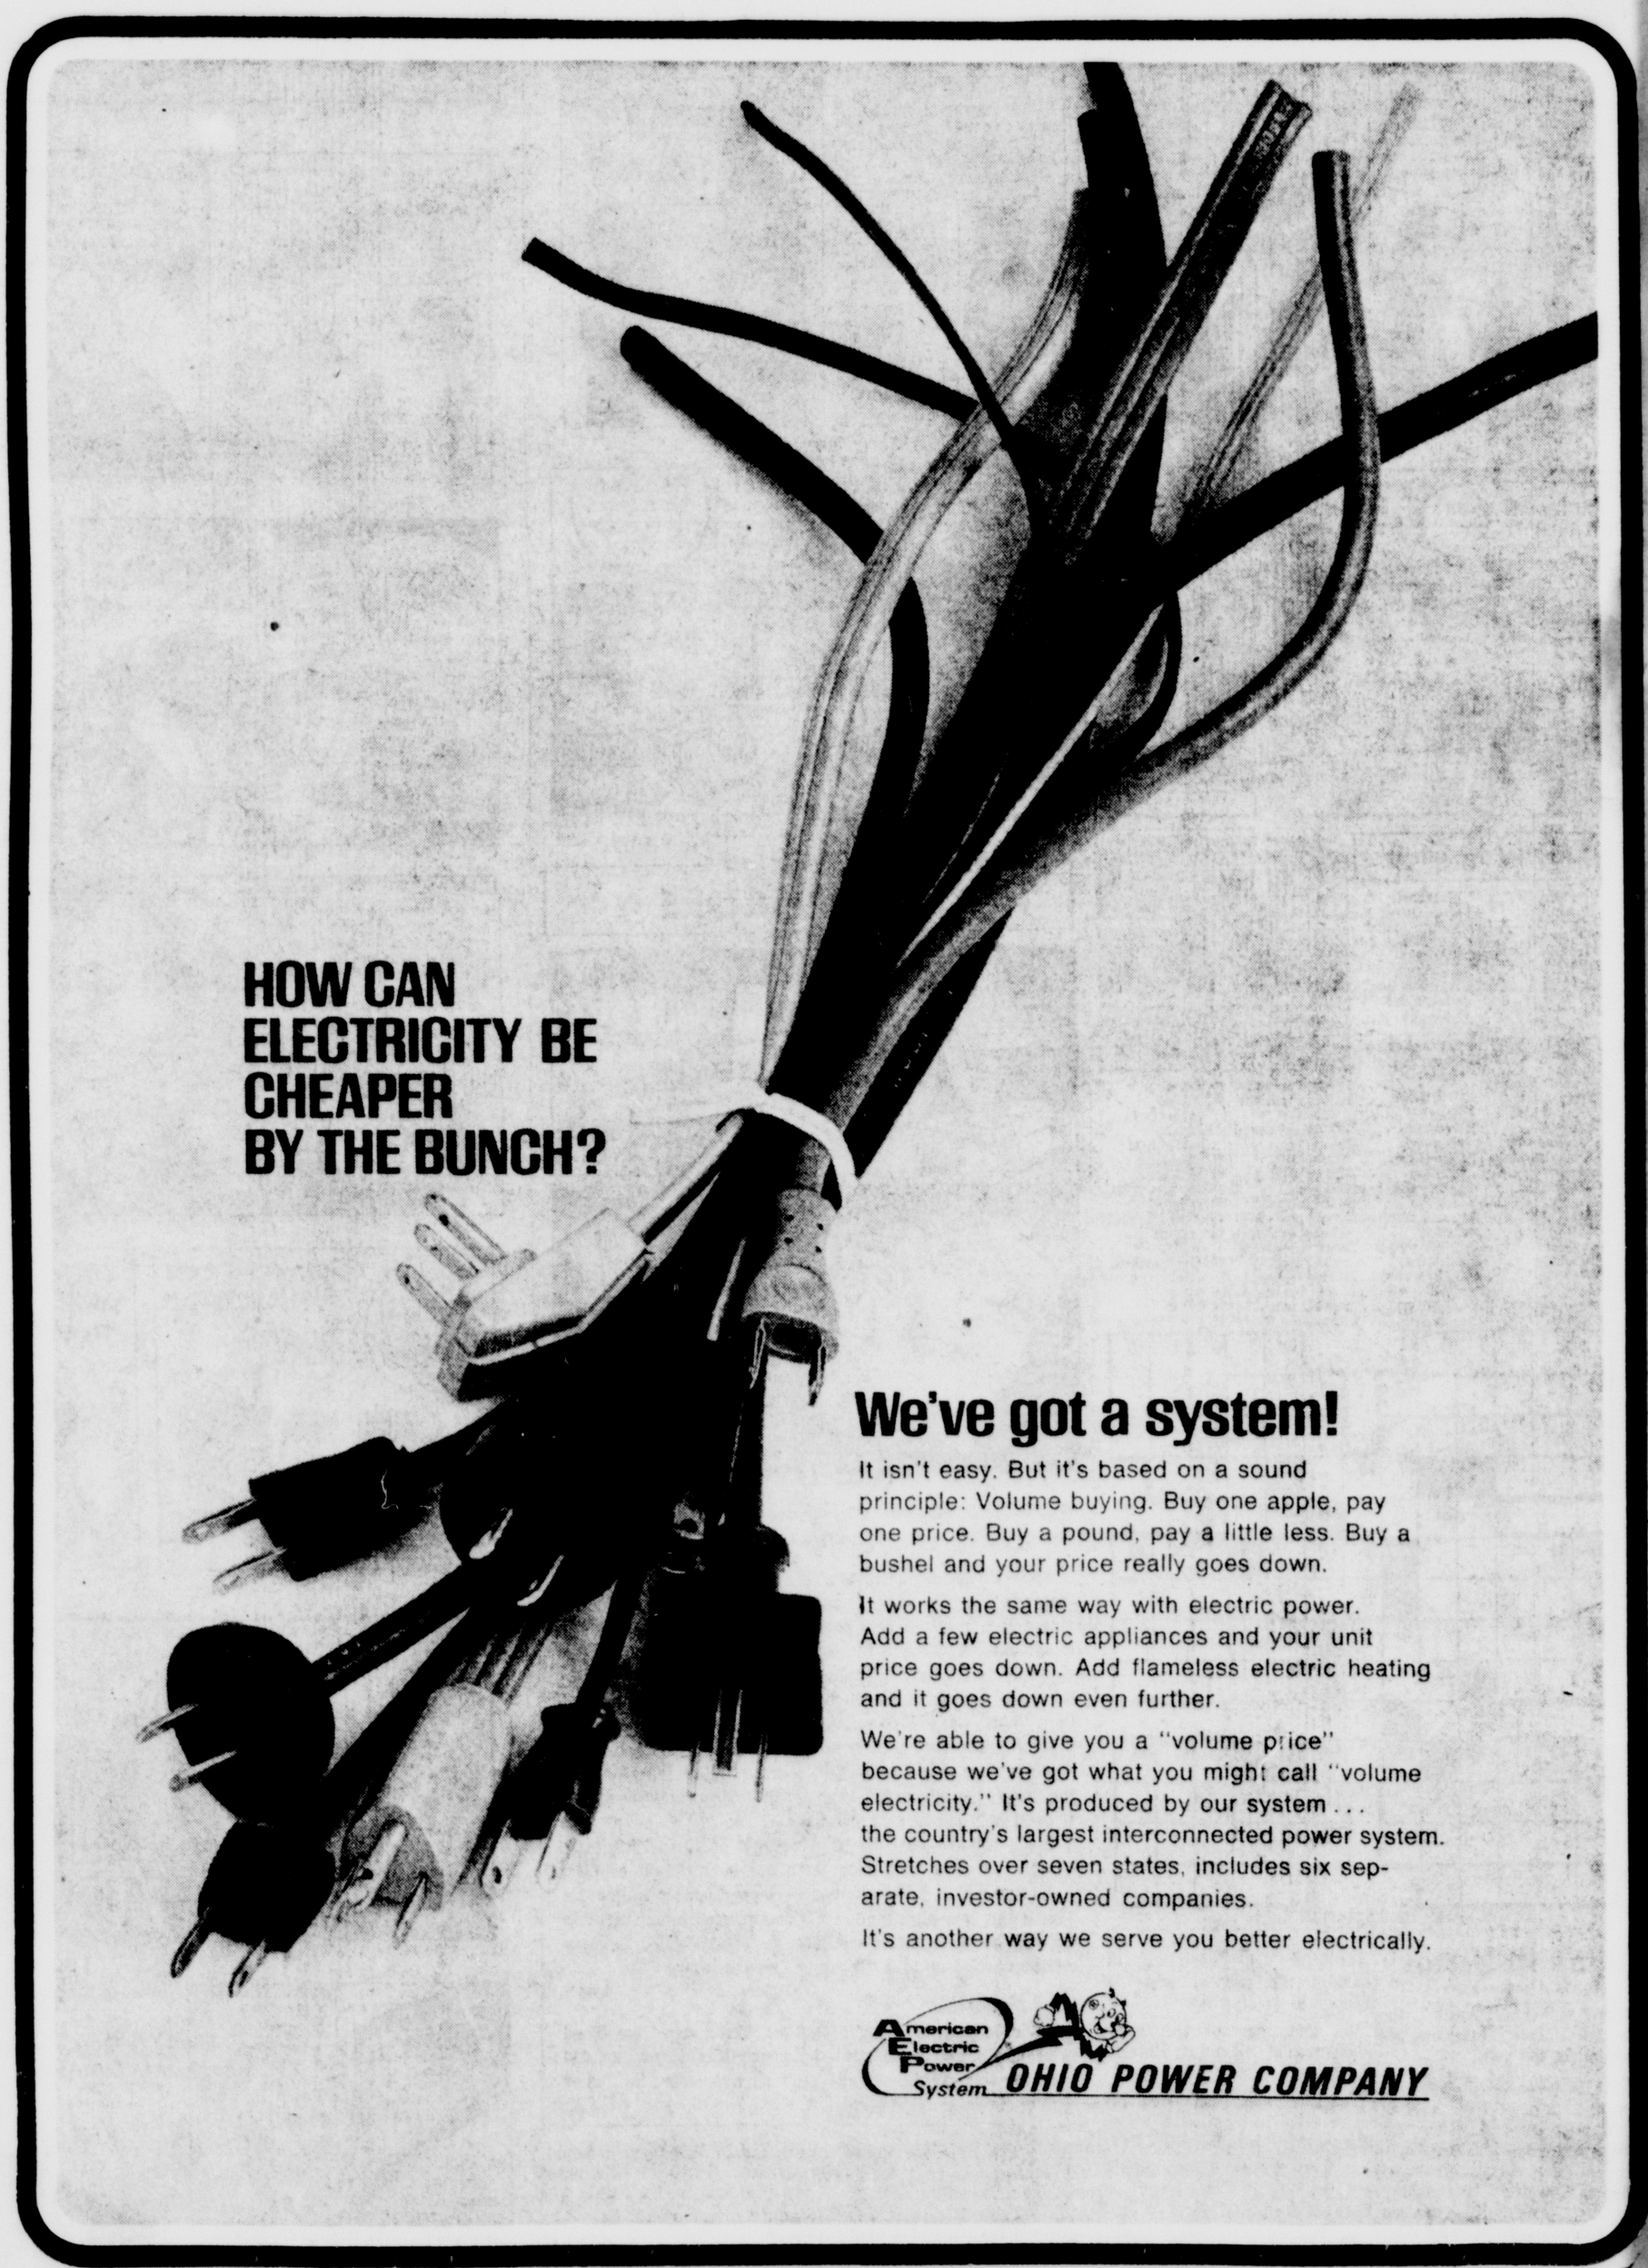

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)— Michael D. Saylers, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Saylers of near Springfield, drowned Thursday when he fell into a garbage can partially filled with water.

It isn't easy. But it's based on a sound principle: Volume buying. Buy one apple, pay one price. Buy a pound, pay a little less. Buy a bushel and your price really goes down.

We're able to give you a "volume price" because we've got what you might call "volume electricity." It's produced by our system . . . the country's largest interconnected power system. Stretches over seven states, includes six separate, investor-owned companies.

It's another way we serve you better electrically.
